CONDITIONS IN TOLEDO DENOUNCED

Public Service Prostituted and Law Is Being Openly Defied

PUBLIC OFFICE REGARDED AS POLITICAL PLUNDER.

COMMISSIONER'S REPORT

Sent to Mayor Keller With Recommendations That He Discharge the Municipal Commission There—Coshocton Mayor's Case Referred to Hogan.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, Dec. 18.—"The civil service law has been openly defied, the public service has been prostituted, and public office has been regarded as legitimate political plunder."

This denunciation of conditions in Toledo is contained in a report of the state civil service commission made to Mayor Karl Keller of Toledo today, recommending the dismissal, immediately, of Members W. E. Cordill, L. H. Paine and J. W. McMahon, of the municipal civil service commission.

Governor Cox today referred to Attorney-General Hogan for further consideration the question of removing Mayor Staats of Coshocton, because Staats has not dismissed his civil service commission as recommended by the state commission.

The letter to Mayor Keller says further: "Under the very eye of your local commission, in many instances, men have been thrown out of office and political henchmen have been appointed in their places, in entire disregard of the civil service law. The simplest formalities of civil service procedure have not been observed in the mad rush to get these offices for political henchmen. Your commission has not only been inactive in violation of the law, but apparently it has winked at these violations."

The state commission says the Toledo situation shows the most flagrant abuse of civil service that has ever come to the attention of the commissioners in this state or elsewhere. It refers to "the deplorable conditions existing in your city."

The report of the commission follows an extensive investigation into conditions in Toledo made in public hearings last week.

MAYOR KELLER OF TOLEDO, GETS ORDER FROM COMMISSION

(Associated Press Telegram)
Toledo, Dec. 18.—Mayor Keller this morning received from Columbus the report of the state civil service commission upon its Toledo investigation. After reading it carefully, the mayor said that he will comply with the recommendation of the state board and remove the local commissioners, William E. Cordill, Louis H. Paine, Republicans and James W. McMahon, Democrat. The mayor said that the law seems to provide that the commissioners may have a hearing.

He has not determined just when he will issue the order of removal.

Gardner Takes Witness Stand And Defends His Resolution For a Military Investigation

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 18.—Representative Gardner was the principal witness today before the house naval committee. He read a long statement in support of his proposal for investigation of the national defenses by a special commission.

"I am here to ask you to appropriate for the full number of new ships recommended by the general naval board for this year's construction," he said. "I am sorry to say that Secretary Daniels in his recommendations to congress has cut the naval board's building program for this year almost exactly in two."

"If you gentlemen had permitted me to present as witnesses a few recently retired officers in a single day, the country would have learned of our deplorable policy of building warships for cold storage."

"Out of thirty completed battleships do you know that twelve of them are unavailable without a long delay on account of our refusal to pay the bills for manning them?"

"If we had gone to war with the rest

General Botha Reports That Rebellion Is Practically Ended

(Associated Press Telegram)
Capetown (via London), Dec. 18.—General Louis Botha, premier of the union of South Africa, considers that the rebellion, apart from the rounding up of a few stray bands, is at an end. Accordingly he has gone for a short vacation on his farm before undertaking a campaign against German Southwest Africa.

70 CAR LOADS OF AUTO TRUCKS OFF FOR RUSSIA.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Cleveland, Dec. 18.—Seventy car loads of automobile trucks for use of the Russian government in war, today were shipped from a Cleveland automobile factory to New York. From there they will be shipped to Vladivostok and then routed over the trans-Siberian railroad to Russia.

French Report Counter Attack To Have Failed

(Associated Press Telegram)
Paris, Dec. 18.—The French war office this afternoon gave out an official communication as follows: "The day of December 17 was marked, as we said yesterday by an advance on our part in Belgium, where every counter attack undertaken by the enemy failed."

"In the region of Arras a vigorous offensive made us masters of several trenches. These are located at Auchy, Labassee, St. Laurent and Biagny. At this last mentioned place we occupied a front more than one kilometer along almost all the first line trenches of the enemy."

"In the region of Tracy-le-Val, on the Aisne, and in Champagne our heavy artillery won distinctive advantages."

"In the Argonne the Germans blew up one of our trenches to the north of Four de Paris and endeavored to move out from their position with three battalions of troops. This infantry attack, as well as the one they undertook at St. Hubert, was repulsed."

"To the east of the Meuse and in the Vosges there is nothing to report."

German Report Of Successes In the Forest

(Associated Press Telegram)
Berlin, Dec. 18, via London.—The German war office this afternoon gave out an official communication as follows: "The fighting in Nieuport continues for the favorable, but no decision has yet been reached."

"The French attacks between Labassee and Arras, another on both sides of the river Somme, have resulted in failure with severe losses to the enemy. On the Somme, the French lost 1,200 men in prisoners and at least 1,500 in dead; our losses were under 200."

"In the Argonne forest our successful attack resulted in the capture of some 7,500 prisoners in addition to war material. There have been no important developments elsewhere on the western front."

"In the frontiers of east and west Prussia the situation is unchanged."

"In Poland we continue to pursue the retreating enemy."

Boys Called to Join the German Army.

The German government has just called out the class of 1915 to join in the war. They were required to report to the army headquarters Dec. 15. How many of these is not known, for information of that kind is no longer given out in Germany. But boys in the south of Germany—the dispatch making this announcement comes from Berne by way of Italy—were notified. This photograph shows the youth of some of those who must prepare to fight. While the class is supposed to be made up of those 20 years of age the picture indicates that some of them are considerably younger.

Freight Rates Increase Granted Railroads of Five per cent, By Interstate Commerce Commission

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 18.—Increases in freight rates, approximating 5 per cent on all the railroads between the Atlantic seaboard and the Mississippi; north of the Potomac and Ohio rivers, were granted today by the Interstate Commerce Commission in a divided opinion, excepting on certain heavy commodities which comprise a large bulk of the traffic.

The increases will further apply to the railroads west of Buffalo and Pittsburgh, which were granted partial advances in the decision of last August, which denied them altogether to the roads east of those points. It is estimated the advanced rates will increase the annual income of the roads about $30,000,000. The commission made its decision upon the showing of the railroads, that in addition to conditions from which they previously asked relief they now are confronted with an emergency because of the war in Europe.

With Commissioners Harlan and Clements dissenting the majority of the commission declared: "Whatever the consequences of the war may prove to be, we must recognize the fact that it exists; the fact that it is a calamity without precedent, and the fact that by it, the commerce of the world has been disarranged and thrown into confusion. The means of transportation are fundamental and indispensable agencies in our industrial life, and for the commonweal should be kept abreast of public requirements."

Summarizing the basis of its decision, the majority report of the commission said: "The facts disclosed and occurrences originating subsequent to May 29, 1914, as held at the further hearing may be summarized under three heads: First, completed returns for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914, and returns for succeeding months; second, the war in Europe, and third, results of the original order."

"When these cases were originally submitted, so also when the original report was prepared, the revenue and expense account for June, 1914, and the property investment account for that fiscal year were not available, the war was unforeseen, and the results of our order were, of course, yet to come. Collectively they present a new situation."

The commission issued this order: "It is ordered that respondents herein be and they are hereby authorized to publish and file, by not less than 10 days notice to the interstate commerce commission, and to the general public in the manner prescribed in the order of May 29, 1914, (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2.)"

Children Found Suffering Under Frightful Conditions With Woman In Drunken Stupor

Responding to a call from 74 German street at 1:30 Friday afternoon, Police Chief Sheridan, Headquarters, Officer Hager and Officer German found two young children of Mrs. Cheroski in a serious condition, suffering either from the effects of whiskey or fumes from a gas heater in the rooms of Mrs. Welsh, where the youngsters were left during the temporary absence of their mother.

Mrs. Welsh was lying on a bed in another room in a stupor. Police Chief Sheridan declared the woman was drunk and that the children were suffering from the effects of the liquor which he believes was administered by Mrs. Welsh.

Shortly after the officers arrived, the children were removed to the home of a neighbor. The mother arrived in a hysterical state and immediately became hysterical. She clung to the children to her breast, one after the other, moaning and crying. The little ones were apparently in a serious condition.

The chief inmediately called Dr. J. G. Shiner and he responded promptly and administered to the little ones.

When the officers entered Mrs. Welsh's rooms, there was a strong odor of gas fumes in the two rooms. Every crevice in the windows were covered with paper, the only fresh air admitted being that which entered when the door was open.

The rooms were heated by a cheap device attached to a light bracket on who hasn't any best.

WOMAN POSING AS A REPORTER FOR ADVOCATE

It has come to the notice of this office that a certain woman in the city has been going about telling that she is an accredited correspondent of the Advocate, and is employed to write many especially big news stories that appear in the columns of the paper. This is an imposition upon the credulity of those whom she thus approaches.

The Advocate staff of reporters and news writer is for the most part well known at the sources of information and they are fully competent to "cover" any news feature that happens to "break."

Any contributions to this paper outside of the regular routine, such as letters, communications, poetry, etc., are duly accredited to those who submit them.

A word to this woman should be sufficient. If it is not stopped her name will be printed.

NEWARK CHARITY BODIES

to the fact that probably there would be more calls for charity this winter than for many years past, owing to industrial conditions. He called attention to the necessity of placing an able secretary at the head of the associated body and that it would be necessary to pay a reasonable salary for directing the work so as a capable man or woman could be secured for the work.

Mac Mossman, township trustee, in a short talk, said that he probably could not attend subsequent meetings and that he wanted to urge upon the permanent organization, the necessity of wise methods of extending charity. He said that the best of charity was that which aided the man or woman in hard luck, to help himself or herself. He said that indiscriminate giving would tend to indifference among those who were helped. He urged the people of Newark to extend their charity by giving work wherever possible, to those needing help, paying a reasonable price for the labor. He called attention to the fact that a thousand families in Newark, extending this sort of help, would maintain the self-respect of those in need of assistance.

Among others who spoke during the afternoon were Rev. Don Tullis, Dr. L. C. Sparks, Rev. Charles Lauchlin, Rev. W. P. Frye, Adjutant Watkins, of the Salvation Army, Mr. R. Scott, township trustee, Rev. C. H. Stull, Probation officer Mrs. Mary Miller.

Representatives of three circles of The King's Daughters, and the Visiting Nurse Chapter, of The King's Daughters, The Licking County Humane Society and others spoke along various lines during the afternoon.

Several organizations were not represented at the meeting owing to the fact that the meeting conflicted with previous arrangements of those interested. The St. Elizabeth Aid society, of which Mrs. Allie Young is one of the leaders, was one of these. Mrs. Young stated to the Advocate Friday morning that she had arranged previously to hear the plans discussed at Thursday's meeting and regretted that a representative of the society could not be present.

She said that the society would arrange to have a representative at the next meeting of the delegates from the various organizations.

"We have felt the need of some such organization," said Mrs. Young. "but I am not prepared to say that our society will affiliate with the organization without knowing more of the proposed plans. Since this organization was suggested, we have made some inquiries into the success of the plan as carried out in other cities and have found that there are some objections. These may be eliminated in the organization here. We should like to co-operate if the plans adopted should seem feasible to us."

When Rev. Mr. Franklin asked that the secretary take the names of those organizations represented at Thursday's meeting and the following organizations responded: Newark Trades and Labor Council, The King's Daughters (three societies), the Visiting Nurse Chapter of The King's Daughters, Juvenile Aid Society, City Federation of Women's Clubs, Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A., Women's Relief Corps, Ladies' Auxiliaries of the B. of L. E., Daughters of Veterans, Salvation Army, Central W. C. T. U., Licking County Humane Society and all the city churches.

Mayor Bibbee announced, Thursday morning, that he had appointed Messrs. John J. Carroll, W. M. Morgan and Frank L. Johnson as the members of the committee to act with him in notifying all organizations in the city to send representatives to the general meeting when the permanent organization will be perfected. This committee authorized the following statement:

The committee selected, Tuesday, December 29, at 3:30 p. m., as the date and hour of the meeting, this date being selected in order that all organizations may have time to elect or appoint their representatives, with full power to act.

The committee wishes to emphasize the fact that the proposed organization is absolutely non-sectarian. Conditions are such that they should be handled by a united effort and in a systematic manner.

In case the committee, in sending out the notices to the various organizations, overlooks any organization interested in this movement, the officers of such are requested to communicate with any member of the committee.

GARDNER

those were authorized over ten years ago. You know that we have 56 submarines in all, built and building, good, bad and indifferent. Now comes Secretary Daniels and in a few soothing words, recommends submarines to the paltry number of eight or so.

"We have just a dozen airplanes in the navy. Last year the aeroplane board recommended an appropriation of $1,300,000. Instead of that sum, according to Captain Bristol, we let the aviation service spend only $350,000 or $400,000. The general naval board in its current report says that we must spend $5,000,000 on more craft."

"Captain Bristol says that that volunteer force does not amount to Hannah Cook. Rear Admiral Strauss tells us that all battleships in commission now, or which will be in commission before the Nevada and the Oklahoma are completed, are equipped with a short range torpedo which may be considered obsolete for the battle fleet."

"Some persons have quoted Rear Admiral Fletcher as saying the American navy ranks ahead of that of Germany. I have searched the admiral's evidence and find that he said nothing of the sort. I don't believe that any well informed man believes our fleet to be superior to that of Germany. A year ago, Rev. Admiral C. E. Everett testified that we are third in the race, and moreover, that we are a pretty bad third, for he said that we should still be third in 1920 even if we adopt the building program of the general board."

Considerable interest centered in Mr. Gardner's testimony for it was he who first introduced a resolution in congress for an investigation of the preparedness of the United States for war. He proposed an inquiry by a national security commission. Such an investigation did not meet with administrative approval and his resolution still remains to be acted upon.

President Wilson in a conference with such an investigation as he proposed; and that the house rules committee has since refused to grant him a hearing on his measure. Mr. Gardner succeeded, however, in getting permission to appear before the naval committee today.

FREIGHT RATES

scribed in Section 6, of the act to regulate commerce, schedules of rates, which do not exceed the limits, or transgress the limitations stated and prescribed in said report.

"It is further ordered that the permission hereby granted does not waive any of the requirements of the commission's published rules relative to the construction and filing of tariff publications, nor any of the provisions of the act to regulate commerce, as amended, except as to the notice to be given."

The carriers are permitted to make the applied for advances in rates except the rail-lake and rail and lake traffic. Rates on bituminous coal and coke; rates on anthracite coal and iron ore, and rates that are held by unexpired orders of the commission. After further consideration the commission permits advances to be made also on cement, starch, brick, tile, clay and plaster. On these commodities no advances were permitted by the decision of August 1. Joint rates between official classification territory and territory south of the Potomac and Ohio, and east of the Mississippi, may be increased not to exceed 5 per cent. Interstate rates to and from New England also may be increased not to exceed 5 per cent.

While present existing differentials among various Atlantic ports are preserved the rates between any two of them also may be increased 5 per cent.

NEWARK WILL DERIVE MUCH IN BENEFITS

ACCRUING FROM RATE INCREASE, AS IT APPLIES TO B. & O. ESPECIALLY.

The General Improvements to be Undertaken will Give Employment to Many Men.

"Trade conditions in Newark, and elsewhere all over the country are certain to feel the throbs of new life, and the present financial stringency and accompanying dearth of employment will be modified to a tremendous extent," said T. J. Daly, Chief Clerk to Division Superintendent Jackson, of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, Friday forenoon, in commenting on the announcement of the five per cent. increase in freight rates granted all railroads by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Announcement of the railroad's Christmas present was greeted with great enthusiasm by local B. & O. and Pennsylvania officials and employees.

Mr. Daly, in an interview, predicted that the new order of things will make itself felt in a business revival as early as the first of next month.

"The only regrettable feature of the thing is that the increase was not granted the railroads last April when they wanted it," said he. "As it is, improvements which could have been started in the spring have been delayed just one year."

"Locally, the increase will have considerable effect. As it was first proposed, eliminating an increase on hauling coal and coke, the B. & O. would not have experienced so much benefit from it, but as it stands now, allowing increases on practically all commodities, the Baltimore & Ohio, being chiefly a coal and coke carrier, will derive great benefits from the increase.

"It means that the company will have the revenue with which to proceed with general improvements, and as a division point Newark naturally will profit."

"From the standpoint of general business nothing better could have happened. It will mean that the railroads will start buying their great supplies of steel and will start rail shipments. The railroads are the biggest buyers in the country. With this additional revenue available for circulation and with the opening of the steel mills, a tremendous trade boom is certain."

"Of course the railroads cannot start actively on their track improvements and such work until early spring, but the stimulus to business afforded by the knowledge that the increase has been granted and that these improvements will be forthcoming will enter the weather permits, will entirely relieve a great element of doubt that has been pervading the big industries that employ thousands of men and circulate tremendous sums of money."

The Pennsylvania company will likewise profit very directly by the increase by reason of its connections between the steel districts of Pennsylvania, the New York and the western markets.

STOCK MARKET
MADE A RALLY;
B. & O. GAINED.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
New York, Dec. 18.—The decision of the interstate commerce commission came unexpectedly to Wall street which had not expected definite word until next week. It came at a time when the stock market was actually weak and helped materially to bring about a general recovery.

Prices rose from 1 1/2 to 3 points above the low level of the session. Reading, one of the roads most vitally concerned, regained 2 3/4 points and Baltimore and Ohio 1 3/4. Other eastern roads scored lesser gains. Prices yielded from fractions to 2 full point after the short interest had covered. The list soon settled down to further dulness.

are (near the fortress of Lemberg, occupied by the Russians early in the Galician campaign.

The Russian official admits none of this. They dismiss the happenings in Galicia as engagements of no importance and class the operations to the west of Warsaw in the same category. It is claimed, however, that the extreme Russian right near Malawa has thrust the Germans back and that Russian cavalry has swung across the southern border of East Prussia.

In the western arena there have been no events of great importance—at least none has been reported. Foot by foot the allies appear to be forcing the Germans out of their trenches in Flanders and maintaining the pressure elsewhere on the front from the sea to Switzerland.

The British press today naturally makes a feature of the annexation of Egypt and the Sudan, which takes from the sultan of Turkey 14,000,000 subjects and 1,300,000 square miles of land. This action moreover, robs the Turk of his last foothold in Africa, Italy having taken Tripoli from him a few years ago.

All England is still buzzing with talk about the German raid on the east coast, interest having been stimulated afresh by the latest accounts coming out of Hartlepool.

Many of the naturalized Germans, arrested on the east coast after the German raid, have been liberated.

FIRE MAY BE THE WORK OF INCENDIARY

Fire which was discovered at 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening destroyed the barn of W. A. Stewart in O'Bannan avenue, and a team of horses quartered in the stable was destroyed, together with the harness and feed Mr. Stewart was away at the time hunting for work.

Circumstances surrounding the fire were such that Police Chief Sheridan and Deputy Fire Marshal John Baird felt warranted in detaining W. A. Jackson and a man who gave him as his full pending an investigation.

Upon learning of the fire, the chief dispatched two officers to the scene at once, then located Mr. Baird, who hurried after the police officers in an automobile.

The loss of his team falls heavily upon Mr. Stewart, who has been out of work for some time.

POLICE BRING COUNCILMEN TO A CALLED MEETING

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Springfield, Ma., Dec. 18.—Nine members of the city council, who had again defied Mayor T. K. Bowdoin and refused to attend a special meeting of the council, are being sought today by a squad of police. The police searched until midnight, then took a few hours rest and resumed the chase at dawn on the mayor's instructions. Four members are known to have left the city in an automobile.

A deadlock over the election of a city clerk is the cause of the refusal of the nine to attend.

"Talk is cheap," said the Wise Guy. "That probably accounts for the fact that silence is golden," added the Simple Mug.

Two Killed In Fire at Terre Haute

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Terre Haute, Ind., Dec. 18.—Two persons were killed and a number injured, three of them seriously, in a fire which early today destroyed a large rooming house known as the "Hay Loft" in the Tenderloin district. A lighted lantern which hung in the hall way to light the way of late comers, and which either fell or was knocked to the floor, is believed to have started the fire.

The dead:
Lucius Alexander, a cripple; smothered to death in bed.
Chester Rawrey, 18, son of rooming house keeper.

The seriously injured:
Lena Rawrey.
Clifford Rawrey, another son.
William Gentry, a roomer.

The three injured were hurt in jumping from the second story of the building, a frame structure.

A blind man known only as "Bill", stood on the roof of the burning building crying for help. He refused to jump and firemen finally rescued him with a ladder.

Mrs. Rawrey, who lost one son in the fire, and who was seriously injured in jumping, saved a second son, Clifford, 9 years old, by throwing him from the window before jumping herself. The boy and his mother were badly bruised and were taken to a hospital. A score of persons were in the building when the fire broke out.

Alexander, crippled by rheumatism, was unable to leave his bed when his room mate cried "fire", and perished, while his companion, Wm. Gentry, leaped from the window and suffered severe injuries.

Reports that the fire was probably of incendiary origin, were not credited by the firemen.

MEN'S SHIRTS

"The vogue of the soft cuff has been immense, but at last it is on the wane, and I for one am glad to be able to report the fact," says Robert L. Trevor in Vanity Fair. "The soft cuff was not handsome; it was hot in summer; it crumpled in an hour or two; it absorbed, like a sponge, every atom of dust with which it came in contact and was, altogether, far from desirable. It has begun to go. The stiff cuff is coming into its own again. And men who dress according to the dictates of sense and cleanliness and practicability are wearing it quite extensively."

FANCIERS WILL SHOW POULTRY AT THE ARMORY

Extensive preparations are being made by the Newark Fanciers' Association for the big poultry show which will be held at the Armory on January 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9.

The premium lists are now ready for distribution and application for them has been received from exhibitors all over the country. Already fanciers in Washington, D. C., Missouri, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and a number of other states have signified their intention of exhibiting at the Newark show.

The board of directors—C. W. Kent, Charles Shuckart, W. E. Warrington, Jud Keller and J. R. Becket, with the following officers: A. S. Mitchell, president; Dr. W. L. Jackson, vice president, and B. F. Kent, secretary—have been busily engaged preparing for the exhibition. George H. Northey of Granville, N. Y., has been secured as judge, and comes well recommended, being licensed to judge by the American Poultry Association.

An admission of 10 cents will be charged, or 25 cents for a season ticket. To stimulate the sale of tickets, Charles Shuckart of Harrison street, has offered as a prize a pair of Buff Orpington chickens to the boy and girl selling the greatest number of admission tickets.

Policeman Dies From Wound By Desperado Hohl

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cincinnati, Dec. 18.—Policeman Edward Knaut, who was shot by Frank G. Hohl, the automobile bandit, while trying to arrest him yesterday, after two banks had been robbed, died at the hospital today from pistol wounds received in the duel with Hohl. Knaut was shot four times.

The police were busy today searching for another woman, whom they believe was the bandit's confederate, and to whom they think he managed to give the $12,100 that he obtained from the two banks.

MOTHER CLAIMS BODY OF BANDIT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Pittsburg, Dec. 18.—Mrs. Annie Hohl, mother of the bandit killed in Cincinnati yesterday said that she intended to claim the body of her son and would send an undertaker for it.

Mrs. Hohl declared that her son had been hounded from the time he left the reformatory at Huntington, Pennsylvania, and suffered hallucinations at times.

"What is the bravest thing you ever did, colon?" asked the hero-worshiper. The grizzled veteran pondered. "Well," he mused, "last evening my wife sent me to the kitchen to fire the cook."

Value of Saving.
Interest is being expressed in the coming one hundredth anniversary of the first American savings bank, which was started 98 years ago in Philadelphia. These banks have had a marvelous growth, with deposits today totaling nearly five billions of money.

The development of savings banks is a matter of great public importance, from the fact that so many people know so little about securities. If small investors lose their little capital, they conclude that they might just as well spend their money and get the good of it, as to lay it away only to see it lost by dishonesty or incompetence. This discourages thrift, reduces the supply of loanable capital, restricts the development of the country, besides causing no end of personal suffering.

Some people have the easy impression that anything bearing the title of savings bank is sound and secure. Unfortunately the laws and financial practice of the various states vary greatly. The banks in one state may be sound and solid, while right over the border there may be loose laws and perfunctory inspections.

The savings bank at home is apt to be the safest investment. It comes down largely to a case of the personality of the men. Any intelligent workingman can form a general impression as to the ability and efficiency of the officers in charge of a bank in his own city. A small bank at home, handled by men of prudence and common sense, is a safer risk for the small investor than some bigger institution miles away. The distant bank may have grander pillars and finer marble. But it may be in the hands of financiers who are playing the stock market, or who have large and hopeless ideas about doubtful securities.

Newark is especially fortunate in its banking facilities. It points with pride to its three national banks, its two trust companies, and its several building and savings associations, all institutions deserving of the confidence and support that they are enjoying. The Christmas money club

Revival of Knitting.
Knitting socks for the European soldiers has become stylish. In many places fashionable women ply the needles at theatres and other public resorts. It is a reminder of far away scenes in the country, where every woman had her knitting.

Women still cultivate needlework, but it is of a more polite character. A thousand varieties of embroidery harm the feminine heart. Color harmonies are produced worthy of a painter. But this does not reduce the cost of living.

The old-fashioned knitted socks are clumsy creations, really built for men who used to wear long-legged boots. Something soft was needed to protect the feet from being chafed. Also the use of excessively warm clothing for winter has greatly diminished. The modern theory, instead of piling on more clothing, is to exercise freely and get up circulation. The knitted stockings were perspiring affairs, not needed by active workers.

What has become also of the boy who used to wear the old knitted mittens. The Christmas presents used to include a pair for each of the toddlers. Leather, or possibly machine-knitted gloves are called for now, which do not wear like grandpa's wool production. They go with store clothes and a position in society.

The old housewifely art of knitting may still look good to the economist. It was a thrifty pioneer way of saving cash. Many of the older people probably still continue it. The warm comfort of a pair of knitted socks will save the life of many a soldier in the Belgian trenches.

But the majority of American husbands would smile but feebly if they got a pair of knitted socks on the Christmas tree, and many are the kids who would weep with shame had they to wear knitted mittens to school.

Cause of Gloom.

The Washington club did try to hold Johnson, tried so hard that it offered him the highest salary ever tendered to the wearer of a local baseball uniform, $16,000 a year, a higher salary than any cabinet officer, higher than the vice-president of the United States, higher even than the chief justice.—Washington Star.

An Old Story.
The war is getting to be such an old story that every now and then room is found on the first page for some good, old-fashioned, uplifting American news, like a triple murder in New York, a few indictments for official graft in Indianapolis, or a Mann act violation in Chicago.—Ohio State Journal.

A Good Loser.
In the vernacular of the gaming table Thomas A. Edison would be termed a good loser. At all events he is philosophical, and now instead of bewailing the fate that caused him the loss of the results of a lifetime of labor and genius, he is able to say calmly that he will start anew.—Dayton News.

It Pays To Do It.
The philosopher of Gov. Cox's paper, the Dayton News, says: "And this: Sometimes it pays to spend a little money even when you are trying to save it." That comes pretty close to that Scripture about losing a life to find it. Many a man loses his self only to find his greater self, and there's no better way to that larger experience of life than in spending a little money at a time when trying to save it. That time is this holiday time, when all are looking toward each other.—Youngstown Vindicator.

Oil From Seeds.
Through experiments which have been conducted at an Argentine refinery, an oil, which is especially valuable for the manufacture of soaps, has been produced from grape seeds. The discoverer of the process is at the present time carrying out further tests in Mendoza at the request of the local government. In case it is found that the oil can be produced on a commercial scale at a cost not prohibitive, it is believed that it will have an important effect on the wine industry. In the past grape seeds have been a loss.—January Popular Mechanics.

Gentle Consideration.
The sayings of little folk frequently are sage as well as suggestive. A literary magazine recalls the naive remark of "Penini" Browning, son of the famous poet, when, during some childish illness, his devoted mother bent anxiously above his bed.

"Think it's a little boy in the street," the child murmured, desiring to be of comfort, "and you won't feel so bad."

Nerves and Battle.
It is claimed that the nerves of city dwellers stand the stress of battle better than men who have lived in the country. The explanation is that the city type of man has become habituated to noise, and terrific noise is an element of battle.

LEARN SOMETHING.
Learn something every day; you'll surely find it pay; the more you know the more you'll go along the upward way. Learn something every hour, and rise to fame and power; it's ill to find a stagnant mind, a brain that's turning sour. Read books that dish up facts in sparkling cataracts; oh, read of guys renowned and wise, their virtues and their acts. It's well to have some fun, when daily toil is done, to drink some pop, or whip a cop, or spend a little mon. But pleasure isn't all that counts on this round ball, and if you hone for that alone, your fortune will be small. Before you go to bed, have something in your head—a fact on file that's worth your while, a slice of mental bread. The great men gone before have left all kinds of lore, where boy and girl may find the pearl of wisdom held in store. Why waste the golden day on cheap old Bertha Clay, or all the trifles of tinhorn scribes who wrote for piece-work pay? Oh, read the good and great, the scribes of high estate, for he who roams their noble tomes will find a golden freight! Learn something true and fine! Dig deep in Learning's mine! With love regard the soaring Bard, the Sage's printed line!

The rule is that criticism of a philanthropist comes mostly from those who have been the beneficiaries of his open-handedness.

While most of the rich relatives are invented by women, those who have known the family a long time say that is the way "Buzz" Hopgood got his "Uncle Henry."

While there is no disposition to discredit any good maxim, the truth is that many honest men die poor and plenty of dishonest men get rich.

It is as easy to understand why a girl of 20 marries an old man of 70 as it is to understand why an old man of 70 marries a girl of 20.

Marmaduke Plank, who has been on the stage, says the chief objection to the life is that actors and actresses are compelled to kiss each other.

Next to the man who is the father of too many children the women criticize most severely the woman who has none.

As the happy Christmas time draws nigh, young hearts are drawn together, and, undaunted by the prospects of "hard times" ahead, many are pledging to "live together for better for worse, until death doth separate."

Foot and Mouth Disease.
Editor of the Advocate:

Sir—Foot and mouth disease has been eradicated from the herd of 736 pedigreed cattle from the National Dairy Show, which was placed in a quarantine at the Union-Stock yards about November 1, according to an announcement made today. The cattle were valued at $1,750,000 and their destruction was discussed at the time the disease was affecting herds in various parts of the country. These prize cattle are said to have passed through every phase of the foot and mouth disease and to have recovered fully. They will not be released immediately, however, from quarantine.

There will be scientific tests for any trace whatever of the disease which may remain. W. E. Shimmer, general manager of the National Dairy Show, has declared that he is greatly pleased with the condition of the cattle and also with the successful efforts to save them.

When He Went to His Office to Announce His Marriage to the Young Woman.

(Associated Press Telegrams)
New York City, N. Y., Dec. 18.—The children were general here today that Mrs. Anna Cleary Newman will take the witness stand in an effort to save her father, William V. Cleary, former town clerk of Haverstraw, on trial here for the murder on July 23 last of Eugene M. Newman, his 18 year old son-in-law. Cleary shot young Newman to death when his son-in-law went to the town clerk's office in Haverstraw to inform him of his marriage five days before to Cleary's daughter. The defense admits the shooting, but is expected to contend that Cleary was suffering from temporary mental aberration. The trial moved swiftly yesterday the court continuing in session until a late hour last night and before adjournment two witnesses had been examined. The state was expected to conclude its case today.

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body. It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

KING ALBERT AWARDS MEDALS TO CYCLISTS.

Furnes, Nov. 30.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—By order of King Albert the cross of the order of Leopold was conferred on every member of the little band of cyclists who crossed the German lines and blew up a bridge near Mons, which cut the German communications for three days and allowed the Allies to assemble the force necessary to check the advance of the Germans toward Calais. This company of cyclists, from which the men were taken for this piece of hazardous work, is composed of 300 members, sworn to give their lives to the country. Only ten were taken from each regiment out of the many who volunteered. The corps is used in operations which often mean certain death. In the present case, the destruction of the bridge cut off the Germans' supplies and is considered by the King to be responsible for the failure of the Germans to break through the line of the allies in the critical days of the first week of November.

The officers who received both the cross of honor and the rank of chevalier of the order of Leopold were Captain Delfosse, Captain Courbois, Lieutenants de Rode, Gervois, Flebus, Parthen and Rolers, while the cross was given to twenty-four non-commissioned officers and enlisted men.

LADIES DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Look years younger! Use Grandmother's recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant. Agents Hall's drug store.

GREICE SATISFIED WITH HER FINANCES.

At Athens, Dec. 15. The newspapers here comment with satisfaction on the financial statement of the government for the year of 1914.

According to the Minister of Finance, the economic situation of the country is most favorable, the international situation having had but little adverse effect on revenues and expenditures than was expected.

As summed up in the Minister's report ordinary expenditures amount to $17,000,000 and extraordinary expenditures to $12,000,000. Of this total of $29,000,000, about $17,000,000 is assigned to army and navy and national defense.

HARDSHIPS FOR THOSE WHO VISIT THE FIRING LINE.

Jonchery, Nov. 30.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The civilian visitors to any village near the firing line are usually compelled to sleep in the vehicles in which they came. As to getting anything to eat or drink, this is almost impossible. The restaurant or keeper always declares that all food has been requisitioned by the soldiers.

If the visitor has brought his provisions with him, he may eat them at the inn, but nothing can be cooked in the place owing to lack of fuel.

The visitor may not go into the streets between six o'clock in the evening and five o'clock in the morning, so severe are the restrictions of martial law. Should he break the regulations, he is arrested and kept in the gendarmery until an escort has been provided, which accompanies him to some city far to the rear, and he is put under parole not to approach the lines again during the campaign.

BOSWELL HOME IN DECAY.

London, Nov. 30.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The quaint old mansion in Great Queen street, which was for many years the home of James Boswell, the Scotch biographer of Dr. Samuel Johnson, is falling to pieces.

Although still occupied, it has had to be propped up on the street front, and the literary pilgrim rarely recognizes, under their timber supports, the brick pillars which were its chief architectural distinction.

SEARCH BEING MADE FOR $13,100 STOLEN FROM TWO BANKS IN CINCINNATI.

Little Hope Entertained for Wounded Policeman—Wife Denies Knowledge of Desperado.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cincinnati, Dec. 18.—Police today are searching for the $13,100 obtained by Frank G. Hohl, automobile bandit, from the two banks he held up and robbed yesterday before he was mortally shot in a pistol duel with three police officers. Patrolman Edward Knaul, the policeman shot by Hohl, was operated on early today, and the attending physicians held out very little hope for his recovery.

Hohl's body still lies unclaimed at the city hospital. His wife, Mrs. Bertha Hohl, who was arrested last night, declared she would not claim the body. She denied knowing anything about the robbery, saying she even was ignorant of the fact that Hohl had been in the city. Mrs. Hohl said her husband left her more than a year ago because she would not take an active part in his career of crime.

War Has Been Expensive to Switzerland

Cost of Keeping a Large Army in State of Readiness Has Been $100,000 Per Day.

Zurich, Dec. 3.—Switzerland's loss since the war began has been a hard one. The cost of maintaining the army in a state of mobilization is estimated at fully $100,000 a day. The loss to the hotel-keepers in three months is figured at $25,000,000.

The hotel-keepers probably suffer more than any other class, especially as they had lean years in 1912 and 1913, owing to bad weather. The had looked forward to 1914 as likely to make up all deficits, the weather from the beginning of the summer was excellent and the rush of tourists in June and early July was unprecedented.

The few tourists who remained after the war-cloud appeared were frightened away by the panic among the Swiss bankers, which caused the refusal of all letters of credit and even foreign money.

At present, many of the big hotels are closed, and the number of guests in those which remain open is at most negligible. Nor is there much likelihood of any improvement in conditions in time for the winter sports season.

As a matter of fact, living conditions in Switzerland have changed very little. There is a shortage of coal and petrol, but food prices have probably increased not much more than 10 per cent.

Private's Arm Grafted Upon General's Body

Paris, Dec. 18.—Dr. Alexis Carrel, of the Rockefeller Institute, New York, has just successfully grafted a left arm on General Trumplet Faber, whose own arm had been torn off by a shell in Belgium. The grafted arm was amputated from a dangerously wounded private, who was of about the same size as the general.

No fewer than 54 per cent of the French wounded returned to the front line before December 12, according to figures supplied today by the surgical department of the ministry of war.

Of the remainder, 24 per cent had been given convalescent leaves, 17 per cent were still in hospitals, and 11 1/2 per cent had been discharged from the army. Three and a half per cent of the wounded died.

A Trouble Maker.

"What sort of a fellow is he?" a troublemaker of the "seems peaceable enough" type, I know, but he's the sort of a blundering chap that denies all the lies you've told your wife."—Detroit Free Press.

Then He Was Sorry.

The Prussian Guards.

Frederick the Great originated the Prussian guards. His ambition was to form a royal bodyguard of giants, and every country was ransacked by his agents to supply recruits. The most extravagant sums were offered to men of exceptional inches, and it is said an Irishman more than seven feet high, who was picked up by the Prussian ambassador in London, received a bounty of £1,200.—London Mail.

Roused Her Interest.

"My dear, you ought to pass up frivolous things and take an interest in deep subjects. Take history, for instance. Here is an interesting item. Gessler, the tyrant, put up a hat for the Swiss to salute."

The lady was a trifle interested.

"How was it trimmed?" she inquired.

O'Connell's Bull.

O'Connell, the great Irish agitator, being pestered by a stranger for his autograph, returned the following answer:

Sir:—Your requesting my autograph is received. I have been so bothered with similar importunities that I'll be obliged if I send it. Your obedient servant.

NERV-WORTH IS WANTED IN IOWA

Resident of That Late Bought Remedy in Newark and Wants More for Her Disordered Nerves.

Nerv-Worth has thus far been demonstrated in but about six Ohio cities, but the demand for it continues to be made by parties in other states. Not long ago an order for this wonderful remedy came from far-off Louisiana. A few days ago an Iowa lady wrote to the Nerv-Worth Co. of Amesville, saying that when in Newark a few weeks ago she bought, at the Evans drug store, a bottle of the medicine for her disordered nerves and found it so beneficial that she wanted two bottles sent to her Iowa home by parcel post so that she could continue its use. This is only the beginning of such a demand. In many families Nerv-Worth is being kept always on hand, like camphor and other such staples, for the use of different members of the family. For sale at the T. J. Evans drug store, $1.00 a bottle. Guaranteed.

FISHING IS ON THE WANE AT BUCKEYE LAKE

Commodore of the Buckeye Lake Yacht Club Makes Some Interesting Observations.

Speaking of Buckeye Lake fishing, Harry C. Holbrook, commodore of the Buckeye Lake yacht club had this to say yesterday:

"It is true that fishing at Buckeye Lake is on the wane, and that it will be impossible to make a sizable catch until artificial means are taken to stock the lake and keep it stocked until natural conditions are restored.

"Starting six years ago, the state pulled the water level down each year for repair purposes, and allowed the fish to escape at the waste-way by the thousands. This waste of fish of spawning size is what has killed the sport of the lake. There simply are not enough large fish in the lake to keep it stocked under natural conditions. The yacht club started a movement to construct fish screens at the waste-way, and they were built and in operation when the water was pulled this fall. If these screens are intelligently handled in the future it will prevent the wholesale waste of fish at the lake.

"That illegal fishing exists nobody doubts. It is a very common occurrence to have your motor boat propeller tangled up in a wire net; it is also possible in season to troll deep on the north bank and pull up a half dozen nets to the mile."

It is difficult to secure a conviction for illegal fishing, even if the game warden would catch an offender right in the act and have competent witnesses.

The heavy draft on the small fish supply by the hog fishermen also is a factor in the case. This animal goeth forth and anchors in a likely spot, armed with a battery of six or eight poles. No fish has a chance when in his range. His catch is heavy and he generally goes home with from thirty-five to seventy pounds of fish, more than he can have use for. His idea of fishing is quantity; his idea of sport, "impossible." How can a hog be a sportsman?

The city vacationer also contributes by his ignorance and impales the minnows of two and one-half inch size. It is a pitiful sight to see Mr. City Man carrying a string of small fry which, when fried, make a spot in the skillet the size of a quarter.

The Buckeye Lake Yacht club has an active fish and game commission, and they have been untiring in efforts to build up the old fishing reputation, that the lake once had. Fish were planted this fall by the state and government and more are promised for spring planting. But in order to insure permanent fishing at the lake, we are going to ask of the state legislature, the building of a fish hatchery at Buckeye Lake, the fry to be planted here and in adjacent waters.

COAL BOATS BEING PUT INTO SERVICE AS AMBULANCE SHIPS.

Geneva, Dec. 18.—The cargo boats that formerly carried coal and cereals on the Rhine have been transferred into ambulances and are conveying wounded soldiers from Colmar to Cologne.

The German wounded generally are well cared for in the hospitals along the Rhine, but their numbers have increased to such an extent since the middle of October, that there have not been enough doctors to give them prompt attention, and many slightly wounded have died on this account. So over-worked are the surgeons that they often fall asleep while on duty. A story comes from Colmar to the effect that a well known surgeon, after having worked for a fortnight with very little rest, fell asleep over an important operation. Pressing calls have been made upon the doctors in Germany, including the most aged, to remedy the difficulty.

WHY SUFFER FROM RHEUMATISM?

You don't have to—if you use Hoff's German Liniment. When your joints and muscles ache, when every movement you make is a painful effort, get a bottle of Hoff's German Liniment and rub on the aching parts. This famous Liniment is stainless and greaseless, with refreshing odor. It has routed Rheumatic pains for millions. It will do it for you quickly and surely. Hoff's German Liniment is as pure and white as snow. It won't soil the most delicate clothes.

At the first touch of Rheumatism, Lame Back or Aching Muscles, rub on plenty of Hoff's German Liniment. Hoff's German Liniment has for 15 years been the unequalled remedy for Sore Throat, Cold in the Head, Cold on the Lungs, Neuralgia, Bruises, Sprains, Burns, Sore Feet, Corns, Bunions, etc. It is perfectly harmless. You can take it internally for a quick relief of colds, coughs, croup, etc. In thousands of homes it has saved many big doctor bills. It is fine for children, as thousands of mothers already know. There is nothing like Hoff's German Liniment in existence for stopping pain. It is a pure white emulsion of camphor cream with other pure, harmless, effective ingredients. It keeps colds out—the pores closed—which camphorated oil alone will not do.

All druggists sell Hoff's German Liniment—a quarter of a pint for a quarter; large family size, 50c. Results absolutely guaranteed or your druggist is authorized to return your money without argument. Beware of substitutes.

Grossmith and Irving. Mr. Weeden Grossmith in "From Studio to Stage" tells how he very nearly spoiled his chances with Mr. Henry Irving at the outset of his acting career. Mr. Grossmith in his studio days was in demand for his "imitations," and at the rehearsal of this play he was told that in his part of Jacques Strop he must "imitate" the gestures and so on of his master, Maurice.

I rushed at it, hit the table and gave them my regular, conventional black drawing room imitation of the great man himself. Jogging my head and waving my hands in the air, I shouted, "Hi, hi—er—er—landlord—er—er—why the devil—er—er—don't you bring—er—er—myself—er—er—refreshment—er—er—myself and—er—er—er—er— I never got any further. Fifty people on the stage collapsed, some with fear, others with laughter. Never had such a thing been known within the sacred walls of the Lyceum. The late Harry Lovejoy, the stage manager, turned pale with fright. The great chief glared at me for a moment with eyes dilated and then gave me a push, saying, "Stupid fellow!" He practically pushed me off the stage.

Enduring It Calmly. In "The Fourth Generation," her volume of reminiscences of English social and literary life during the last century, Mrs. Janet Ross adds the name of Nassau W. Senior, the English economist, to the already long list of persons who consider music "a horrid noise that stops conversation."

Once at Bowood, Lord Lansdowne's place, Tom Moore had been prevailed upon to sing. All the party drew near to the piano save Mr. Senior, who sat at a small table and began to write with a quill pen on Lord Lansdowne's very ribbed paper. He was compiling an article on statistics or something of the sort.

Moore began, but he was so much worried by the persistent scratch, scratch, that he stopped to see who was making the odious noise.

Senior raised his head. "Oh, you don't disturb me, I assure you," he said innocently. "Pray, go on; I rather like it."

Insolence of Wealth. A southern negro put up a sign on his place, "For Sale." He was ridiculed and changed it to "sell" and finally tried a third time, his sign reading "sell." It had not been up an hour when an old colored man came along and queried:

"Does you mean dat dis place am fur Sally? What yer gwine to giv' de place to Sally fur?"

"Am you findin' fault wid dat sign?" asked the other.

"Well, I doan' quite catch on to de spellin'."

"You doan', eh? Has you got seben hundred dollahs to pay cash down fur dis place?"

"No, sah."

"Den you pass on an' shet up! Maybe I doan' spell just de same as you do, but I's got prospects of handlin' seben hundred dollahs, while you got boaf knees out to de weddah. Go 'long, ole man; yo' too fly on joggerly."

Weather Reduced to Prose. The weather was once a picturesque and poetic thing. It came up in the night with a boom and a bang through the trees. It was a sort of mystic thing that asked no questions, but just swung a scepter. It was grand in "red sky at night, the sailor's delight; red sky in the morning, sailors take warning." It was a wholesome lesson to proud man that he always had a master, and it made us more reverent toward nature and the Creator. There was such a difference in receiving our weather direct from heaven and receiving it by wire direct from Washington.—New York Mail.

Sounded Funny. An individual of considerable importance, by name Tootle, once attended a reception, accompanied by his wife. The announcement was made, "Mr. Tootle!"

"And Mrs. Tootle," was suggested softly to voice in corrective tones.

"And Mrs. Tootle, too!" responded like the blast of a horn through the room, to the evident amusement of the large assembly.—London Answers.

Weighing the Baby. "How many stamps will this baby take by parcel post?"

"It weighs fourteen pounds," announced the clerk. "The number of stamps required depends on where you want it to go."

"I don't want it to go anywhere, thank you. I just wanted to ascertain its weight."—Kansas City Journal.

Definition of Drunkenness. The following definition of being drunk has been given by a laborer in a Melbourne police court, writes our Sydney correspondent:

Very Often the Case. "All the average man wants is fair play," remarked the wise guy.

"Yes, but the trouble is he also wants to act as umpire," added the simple mug.—Philadelphia Record.

AND MUSIC HALLS IN PARIS NOT TO OPEN DURING THE WAR.

One Music Hall and One Orchestral Concert Constitute City's Amusements at Present.

(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)

Paris, Nov. 30.—"As long as the enemy treads French soil, it is not seemly for Paris to laugh," says Prefect of Police Laurent, in reply to the renewed appeals of dramatic artists for the re-opening of theatres and music halls.

"No new permits shall be issued and no permits previously accorded shall be renewed so long as the Germans occupy any part of France," he declares; consequently a few moving-picture shows, one solitary music hall, and one orchestral concert constitute the amusements of Paris.

The poor artists, who are known rather for their generosity than for their thrift, are reduced to the necessity of applying for the government allowance to the unemployed, and here these free-hearted, easy-livers, are met with a humiliating rebuff.

"Your dress is too elegant," or "you pay too high a rental," or "your furniture is too rich to justify an application for government aid," are the replies they get in many cases.

The average season's receipts of Paris amusements is 30,000,000 francs, or $6,000,000, and a small portion of that amount, the directors contend, would suffice to see the 70,000 people who depend upon the theatre for a living through the hard times. They recall that in 1870-71 the Theatre Francais continued its performances even when the Germans were shelling Paris and Mont Valerien.

The artists and employes of the opera, the Opera Comique and the Theatre Francais, are cared for by a monthly allowance. One of the provincial music hall artists is selling vegetables near the Port Saint Martin. A comedian of the Folies Dramatiques, is earning a living in a butcher shop. One of the prize graduates of the Conservatory is mailing clerk in a newspaper office, and one of the great baritones is driving a cab. A great many others are in the trenches along the Aisne.

The baritone Renaud, has enlisted at the age of 53 on the condition that he be incorporated in a fighting regiment. He has been made a corporal.

Reynal, the youngest "societaire" of the Theatre Francais, was killed at Meaux in the battle of the Marne. Alexander, his colleague, is in the military hospital at Montlucon, suffering from pneumonia, contracted in the march to Charleroi; he is nursed there by another colleague, his wife, Mlle. Robinne, who is a member of the Red Cross staff.

Albert Carré, the new administrator of the Theatre Francais, is lieutenant-colonel of territorials, awaiting marching orders at Besancon, while the opera, in addition to Renaud and Murratore, Franz, and three-quarters of the male chorus and stage mechanics to the ranks.

Ghesni, director of the Opera Comique, is an ordnance officer on the staff of General Gallieni, military governor of Paris.

WORSHIPERS OF PARIS FASHIONS HAVE HARDSHIPS

Paris, Nov. 30.—American women accustomed to come here annually to worship at the shrine of Dame Fashion, would grieve at the change that has come to the Rue de la Paix. Fashion has fled.

The luxurious limousine and the busy taxi cab have gone to war. In their places are cars drawn by horses too stiff or feeble to carry troopers. The gems that used to scintillate behind plate-glass windows, and the silk ruffles and dainty lingerie that tempted the glances of passersby, have disappeared behind iron shutters that were put up with the coming of the moratorium.

Shoe-keepers are not agreed that all of this caution is necessary. Many of them believe there would be business if there was credit. The moratorium means spot-cash. Said one of them: "It is madame who buys and monsieur who pays. When credit disappears the life of the Rue de la Paix goes out."

Some of the artists designers who in the past have clothed feminine Paris, and are well-known in America are now making uniforms. One of the conspicuous artists of recent years, in women's wear (Poiret), is superintending the work in a government uniform shop. One of the largest dress-making shops (Worth's) is occupied by a very complete and comfortable auxiliary hospital. The aristocratic hotels are blank and dismal, and Napoleon looks chilly and lonesome at the top of the column on Place Vendome.

The moratorium is death on credit as well as the foe of credit. It has chased away the frolicsome modistes, who used to dance out of the fashionable Rue de la Paix shops at noon, arm-in-arm, by twos, threes and fours, to trip away lightly to the creameries, noonday lunches and cheap restaurants. Some of them are sewing soldiers' clothing; most of the others are at home living on the small allowances made by their employers.

ESPIONAGE PLACED ON DANISH EXPORTS TO UNITED STATES

(Associated Press Telegram)

London, Dec. 15.—According to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Central News, the government there has ordered all Danish exporters of food stuffs from America to deposit with the government bills of lading and orders, showing the disposal of these cargoes, with a view of preventing absolutely any export of food to Germany.

DISGUST

ENGENDERED BY THE ACTIONS OF A MOB OF INDUSTRIAL WORKERS AT SEATTLE.

Terrorized a Restaurant, Robbed It, Arrested Them, Wrecked the Police Station.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 18.—Two hundred unemployed men terrorized the patrons and proprietors of a dairy lunch at Second avenue and Cherry street, last night, by marching into the place and forcibly taking all the food in sight. After this raid they paraded the downtown streets and made an onslaught on a market, seizing everything edible within reach. Forty men arrested and placed in three large cells at the city jail, kicked the plaster off the walls and broke all the windows. Then a volley of the pieces of plaster brought the big gas light globes crashing to the floor, leaving the corridor in darkness. The men said they had agreed not to go to the Hotel Liberty, the municipal home for men without jobs, because they would be required to cut wood, mop the floors, cook and perform other service.

The mob formed on Washington street and dragged an express wagon through the streets bearing placards advertising their state of unemployment.

The men arrested offered Industrial Workers' of the World literature to the patrolmen.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Ah! how good it feels. Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more hawking, snuffling, blowing, no more headache, dryness or straining for breath. Ely's Cream Balm is just what sufferers from head colds and catarrh need. It's a delight.

The Ruling Passion.

It is an evident fact that the body when it has long been a slave to evil passion finds it next to impossible to break its chains. The mind may passionately desire righteous living, but the abused nervous system, fallen into iron habits, retards the soul's behest.

Canon Gore wrote that he was once present at the deathbed of a pick-pocket, a man who professed himself to be sincerely penitent and who believed in the forgiveness of sins.

He had said goodbye to this world, and the clergyman sat by his side waiting for his last moment to come. Suddenly the sinking man exclaimed in a hoarse and painful whisper:

"Look out for your watch."

They were his last words. He had died in their utterance, and the clergyman's watch was found in his lifeless hand. He had not been able to resist the nearness of an article that could be stolen. His enfeebled will could not prevent the muscles from falling into their old habits, but his mind (his soul, shall we say?) protested to the last.—London Standard.

Too Slow.

A rather diffident young man met a pretty girl last winter in Bermuda. He danced with her, he wheeled with her to a hotel for strawberries and cream, and he bathed with her in the pretty blue pool with its lining of azure tiles.

But he didn't propose. Was he too bashful? The girl one afternoon in a tea garden offered to read his future, and, holding his big brown hand in her slim white one, she murmured as her finger moved delicately across his palm:

"This line indicates that before you lies—happiness."

She paused, with downcast eyes. But nothing followed. The young man sat beside her, grinning sheepishly. Her lip curled in disdain, and she added in a clear, cold voice:

"But this line indicates that you'll never overtake that future. You're too slow."—New York Tribune.

Nelson and Red Tape.

When Nelson returned to England after he lost his eye he went to receive a year's pay as smart money, but could not obtain payment because he had neglected to bring a certificate from a surgeon that the sight was actually destroyed. A little irritated that this form should be insisted on, because, though the fact was not apparent, he thought it was sufficiently notorious, he procured a certificate at the same time for the loss of his arm, saying they might as well doubt one as the other.  On his return to the office the clerk, finding it was only the annual pay of a captain, observed he thought it had been more. "Oh," replied Nelson, "this is only for an eye. In a few days I shall come for an arm, and in a little longer, God knows, most probably for a leg."

Preaching and Practice.

In Gladstone Lady Dorothy Neville found a conversationalist after her own heart. She sang his praises many times in her reminiscences, and once she told this anecdote of his methods of self protection at public gatherings:

"I remember his talking about the safety of the times and how public men could now go unguarded everywhere, while he was sitting at a dinner table with two detectives provided by Scotland Yard in order to watch over him standing in the room, while another was upstairs ready to mix with the guests at the party which was afterward to be given. The Grand Old Man's two guardians at the dinner were dressed as footmen, one standing immediately behind his chair, while the other took up a position directly opposite on the other side of the table."

Enough Said.

The teacher in charge of one of the grades in a grammar school wrote on the board a number of words ending in the syllable "tion." After explaining the meaning of each to the class she told them to use the words in sentences. Her pupils wrote busily for a few moments, and then one of them astonished her with the following:

"Father's hair is a recollection, mother's is an acquisition, auntie's is a compilation, sister's is an aggregation, brother's is a conflagration, while baby's is a mere premonition."—Magazine of Fun.

The Penalty of Politeness.

"I noticed, dear," said Mr. Markham to his wife, "you didn't say 'thank you' to the man who gave you his seat in the street car this evening."

"No," replied Mrs. Markham; "you see, I once stopped to say thank you and by the time I had done so I found that another woman had the seat."—New York Post.

Presence of Mind.

Show a bursting into manager's office—Quick! There's a fire behind the scenes. The gang are rushing about like mad and screaming their heads off. Looks like a panic. What will we do? Manager—Do? Ring up the curtain, of course, and let the audience think it is the opening chorus.—Puck.

Noble Boy.

"You ate all your own cake and Mabel's, too, Tommie?" said the mother. "Yes'm," replied Tommie. "You'll be sick, child!"

"Well, mother, you see if anybody was going to be sick I didn't want it to be Mabel."—Yonkers Statesman.

Very Different.

"Before I was married a twenty dollar bill looked like a two spot." "And now?"

"Now, by George, a one looks like a miracle."—Boston Transcript.

Every one is dissatisfied with his own fortune.—Cicero.

MILK IS FREE; DRAWS CROWD AT CREAMERY

Men, old and young, old women and young women, boys and girls in great numbers, formed a solid line about the main doors of the Licking County Creamery Thursday afternoon and for the most part of the day Friday, eager to benefit by the company's free gift of several hundred gallons of skimmed milk to those in need.

Between 3 and 6:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon approximately 200 gallons of milk were given away by the creamery, and employees were kept almost constantly busy filling receptacles of all sizes and shapes for the crowd which zig-zagged its way to the doors.

The early comers were for the most part school children. These were followed soon by older persons who patiently awaited their turns in the penetrating afternoon cold. All were supplied, each with a reasonable quantity.

Early Friday morning the line-up again put in appearance, but the demand was not so great during the forenoon as it had been Thursday afternoon. Persons with buckets and bottles came as early as 6 o'clock for their free milk, and the start was made on distributing the remainder of the supply then approximating 300 gallons.

Many comments were to be heard on the generosity of the enterprise, and judging from the demand for free milk, there are many in Newark who appreciate the opportunity of obtaining this food essential without cost.

Free distribution of skimmed milk will be continued so long as the supply lasts, the company announced.

DAILY GAIN IN WEIGHT.

Comes to Those Who Use Samose, Says Druggist W. A. Erman.

The poor, thin emaciated person when he or she becomes plump, rosy and robust by using Samose, forgets that there is such a thing as weakness and underweight.

Samose restores health to the whole system so that the tissues assimilate from the food all of those elements which make solid bone, firm muscle, pure blood, and sufficient fat to restore beautiful and symmetrical outlines to the figure.

An increase in weight is seen from the first week's use of Samose, but if it does not restore you to your proper weight and give you full vigor, proper vitality, Druggist Erman and Son will return your money. You certainly can afford to try Samose on this guarantee.

CO-EDS FRUSTRATE FACULTY PLANS FOR HISTORY EXAM.

Granville, Dec. 18.—Turning class into an ice cream and cake social is the latest idea Denison students have sprung on the professors to evade examinations.

The men and women, in a stiff course in history, in which there had been considerable loafing all term, Thursday were at their wits' ends to discover a way to pass a test that had been announced.

They decided they wouldn't crib, because that plan lacked originality. But it remained for the coeds to contrive the system to beat the instructor.

After the students were all set and the professor was presenting the examination on questions, in walked three conspirators bearing a freezer of cream and plates piled high with cakes.

"Class dismissed!" yelled the professor, as he grabbed a lady finger.

WILSON MAKES "COMMON SENSE" A REQUIREMENT

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 18.—President Wilson has let it be known that he had made "common sense" the chief qualification of the five men he is to nominate as members of the new trade commission within the next two weeks. He does not desire theorists for the commission, but men who will be able to intelligently deal with business conditions in the United States.

Politics, it is said, will not govern the make-up of the board, although at least one Republican will be named. Among the numerous men whose names are under consideration are Joseph B. Davies, commissioner of corporations; A. C. Thurman, solicitor of the commerce department; E. N. Hurley, president of the Illinois Manufacturers Association; John E. Richardson of Tennessee; Thomas S. Felder of Georgia; George Rublee of New Hampshire; Samuel L. Rogers of North Carolina; Prof. Henry J. Waters of Kansas; E. A. Krauthoff of Missouri and W. B. What $10 Will Do.

A sort of paradox is the fact that thousands of people who make no effort to save a dollar when times are highly prosperous will develop and practice economy when work and opportunity are less plentiful. The best way, of course, is to try and save at least a little all the time, putting by a larger amount when earnings are at their height. As a nation we are not taught that economy which makes France the banker of the world, and whose accumulations come not from vast exports of natural resources, but from the combined small savings, consistently continued year after year, by the French people as a whole.

If the people of this country would save during the year 1915 an average of $10 per capita, the grand total at the end of the first twelve months would be the magnificent sum of one billion dollars.

The French save, partly because it has become hereditary, and chiefly because the children are brought up that way and are taught the dignity of accumulation. We, on the contrary, in a spirit of false pride, are inclined to scorn the necessity of saving, as though it were something of which to be ashamed. If our present experiences shall teach us thrift, it will be a strengthening of a great national weakness.—H. H. Windsor, in the January Popular Mechanics Magazine.

LIONS CAUSE PANIC WHEN THEY ESCAPE

FROM CAGE ON THE STAGE OF A NEW YORK THEATER THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

Fusillade of Shots From Policemen's Pistols Succeeded in Wounding Officers, Not Lions.

New York, Dec. 18.—Five lions escaped in a motion picture and vaudeville theatre in Eight-sixth street late yesterday afternoon, throwing the audience into a panic and knocking down about 100 persons, several of whom were so seriously injured that they had to be taken to hospitals.

One police officer was shot and probably fatally wounded by another policeman, who was trying to kill the lions; two other officers were mangled by the animals and an unidentified woman was clawed by one of the beasts before it was killed.

Among the injured are Police Sergeant Samuel Glynn, who probably will die; Policeman James Craig, whose left hand was mangled by one of the lions; and Policeman Edward Kegney, who was shot in the right hand and whose head was clawed by a lion.

Four of the animals were captured in the lobby of the theatre, but the fifth escaped to the streets. Scores of policemen, with revolvers and clubs, started on a lion hunt and half an hour later the beast was killed by a bullet from an officer's revolver.

The animals got out of their cage just as their part of the performance in the theatre was concluded. They should have returned to their separate cages in the wings, but instead bounded down into the orchestra.

At the time a musical quartet known on the stage as "The Four Hearts" had just come on the stage. When the lions leaped down into the orchestra the singers went on with their act in an effort to quiet the panic-stricken audience. The comedian of the quartet began dancing a lively jig.

The audience piled pell-mell out of the side entrances of the theatre, the lions having dashed through the house and out into the lobby. Four of the animals did not leave the building and were corralled in the lobby for half an hour before the police reserves and theatre employees could drive them back to their cages. Many shots were fired at them in the lobby to keep them terrified.

The fifth animal dashed for the street and attacked and clawed several persons before the bullet of the policeman ended its life.

The lion dashed east in Eighty-fifth street to Third avenue. At 1532 Third avenue the animal climbed the stairway and walked into a photograph gallery. There were a number of persons sitting in the reception room waiting to have their photograph taken as the lion walked on them. They promptly rushed to the roof and slammed down the trapdoor.

A woman sitting for the portrait fainted, and two employees in the studio, attempting to jump over the lion which barred the single exit, were badly clawed.

The lion made itself at home in the photograph gallery, sniffed around a little and then returned to the street. By this time the reserves from the East Eighty-eighth Street Station had arrived and the police began firing at the animal, which by that time had become savage and was attempting to run away.

The lions were being exhibited by a woman billing herself as Mme. Andree. She had six lions in all, but one of these leaped back into his cage when the act was concluded. It was while an attendant was locking this cage that the other five animals decided to make their break for liberty.

Three arrests were made on charges of felonious assault. Those in custody are Mme. Andree, C. A. Turnquist, the lions' keeper, and George H. Hamilton, manager of the attraction. The lions were owned by Francis Ferari.

A Surprise For Joaquin Miller.
When London society after the publication of "Songs of the Sierras" began to lionize Joaquin Miller he was much puzzled at receiving three letters in quick succession from an admirer who signed himself "Dublin," without any initials. One of these contained an invitation to breakfast, which he accepted, and then discovered that his host was the archbishop of Dublin. After his return to America Miller wrote: "At Dublin's breakfast I met Robert Browning, Lady Augusta, a lot more ladies and a duke or two. After breakfast Dublin read poetry to me, with his five beautiful daughters grouped about him. When I went away he promised to send me his books. He did so. I put them in my trunk and did not open them till I got to America. Fancy my consternation as well as amazement and delight to find that Dublin was Trench, the author of 'Trench on Words.' Ah, why didn't he sign his name Trench, for I knew that book almost by heart?"

Jarred Into a Laugh.
Audiences are put in good humor in all sorts of ways, writes Spencer Leigh Hughes, M. P., in "The Art of Public Speaking." On one occasion I was present when John Morley addressed a very large and overcrowded meeting, and when he rose there was much disturbance at the back, not because of hostility to the speaker, but because men's ribs were being crushed almost to breaking point. At last the disturbance ceased, and, as often happens on such occasions, a dead silence fell on the expectant crowd. Mr. Morley had just uttered the words "Mr. Chairman" when in a tone of anguish and rage a voice could be heard snapping out, "Who in blazes are you shoving?" and the place rocked with laughter, while even the scholarly and distinguished man on the platform could not forbear to smile. The meeting settled down in a most friendly spirit.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Chinese Nurse.
"One thing that you can't find in New York is a professional Chinese nurse," said a doctor. "The town was raked fore and aft for one not long ago. A sick American recently came home from the orient declared that a Chinese nurse was essential to rapid recovery, and the doctors on the case instituted a thorough search for such an attendant. Every person I have met who has ever been attended by a Chinese nurse cannot be satisfied with any other. There are a number of them in Chinese cities. They have been trained by American and European nurses and missionaries, but as soon as they get the hang of the business they go their instructors one better in gentleness and soothing ways. It is common for persons who have known their ministrations abroad to ask for them here, but they cannot be found."—New York Times.

Hardly Worth While.
Eleanor was the little daughter of a musician whose first oratorio, according to a writer in Harper's Magazine, was to be given at a musical festival in a city some distance from their home. Eleanor had never been away from home, and her parents thought that she would regard the journey and concert as the greatest experience of her life and decided to take her.

The oratorio was pronounced highly successful. But when Eleanor was being put to bed that night she looked so unhappy that her mother asked her if she had not had a good time. Eleanor looked up tearfully and said: "Did you bring me all this way from home just to hear that thing that's been coming up through the register for the last six months?"

Old Cuckoo Superstitions.
In the spring the cuckoo's first call of the season formerly played a great part in love divinations. A common English belief was that an unmarried person hearing a cuckoo call and immediately taking off boots and stockings would find on the great toe of the right foot a hair whose color would be that of the poll of the destined lover. Another idea, mentioned by Milton, and persisting till this day, was that an unmarried man or maid would remain single for just as many years as the number of the cuckoo's calls when first heard in the spring.

The Counsel of Perfection.
"If every one would mend one," suggested a witty parson, with admirable understanding of human needs, "there would be more true Christianity in the world."

Matthew Arnold took this ennobling counsel for self-discipline from Pope: "Make each day a critic on the last." That was the star by which he guided his own difficult course.—Youth's Companion.

Right Up to the Minute.
"His wife is a business woman, all right."

"What makes you say that?"

"She installed a time clock in the hall, and he has to punch it when he goes out nights and when he gets back."—Kansas City Star.

"Cranks" Catalogued.
A catalogue of murderers is one of the curiosities in the offices of the United States secret service in Washington. In this catalogue all the "cranks" in this country are listed, first alphabetically under their names and aliases and, secondly, under the particular forms taken by their obsessions. The catalogue is kept up by contributions from the police of every town and city where a crank is found.

Purifying the Air.
A pitcher of cold water placed on the table of an occupied room will absorb all the gases with which the room is filled from the respiration of those eating or sleeping in it. In a few hours this pitcher of pure water will make the air of the room pure, while the water itself will become totally unfit for use.

Wood Engravings.
The better wood engravings are made almost exclusively of boxwood, and the large blocks are made of small pieces glued together. The engraving is done across the end of the grain. Japanese wood prints, on the other hand, are made on lengthwise sections of cherry wood parallel to the grain.—Argonaut.

Had to Touch It.
"Why did you place your finger on this lady's cheek?"

"You know how it is, Judge. Fresh paint exercises a fatal attraction for us all."

The judge discharged him.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

YOUNG WOMAN DECORATED WITH CROSS OF LEOPOLD.
Havre, Nov. 30.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The order of Leopold, the Victorian Cross of Belgium, is conferred on Mlle. Renaudiere of Schaerbeek, for bravery under fire while serving with the Red Cross ambulance. In a number of difficult fights, Mlle. Renaudiere went out on the field to seek and bring in Belgian wounded in defiance of shot and shell. Her name now appears as chevalier of the Order of Leopold on the War Office records by order of King Albert.

Labor Body to Ask Toledo to Furnish Work

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Toledo, Dec. 18.—The Central Labor Union of Toledo will send a delegation to the city council next Monday night and ask that the city furnish work for its large number of unemployed.

"The laboring people of Toledo don't want charity, they want jobs," said J. A. Page of the Tugmen's union, who introduced the resolution. "It is the duty of the municipality to give work to the willing worker in time of distress. There is a great deal of work that can be done in the parks and boulevards."

Business agent Quinlivan said that according to statistics there were at present about 15,000 men in Toledo out of work. "Many of these men would rather starve than ask for any kind of charity. If the city doesn't find these men jobs a great wave of crime is bound to result," he said.

The Baron's Order.

A worthy Welsh baronet, a member of one of the parliaments of William IV., was asked by one of his constituents who chanced to be in town at the time for an order of admission into the house. With his characteristic disposition to oblige, Sir — immediately complied with the request and wrote an order in the usual terms and addressed it thus: "To the Door Keeper of the House of Commons." The person for whom it was intended discovered the error in the spelling after he had gone ten or twelve yards from the worthy baronet and, turning back and running up to him, said: "Oh, Sir — there is a slight mistake in your order. Two letters have been transposed. You have spelled 'keeper' with a 'k' instead of a 'k' and 'commons' with a 'k' instead of a 'c'. 'That's all right,' was the answer. 'The doorkeeper will see to it. He is sure to know which is which.'"

Rules For Success at Golf.

Writing in the American Magazine, Jerome D. Travers calls Harry Vardon the greatest golf player he ever met and says the bulk of his success might be set down to these few simple rules: Control of temper.

Refusing to worry over any bad lie or any hard luck.

Playing easily within himself and never pressing.

Playing always for the hole, even when 200 yards away.

Studying his game and practicing at every opportunity.

Making a point, even in practice, to follow all simple rules, such as keeping one's head still, looking at the ball, etc.

Keeping the body under control until perfect timing is developed.

Using an easy, natural upright swing that stays as long as possible in line with the intended flight of the ball.

New York's Broadway.

Few New Yorkers know that the great Broadway was once called Great George street in honor of the English king. It was afterward known as the Bloomingdale road before it acquired the name of "the Broadway," which was subsequently changed to Broadway.—New York Telegram.

A Missed Opportunity.

"There goes a man I might have married," said Gerlie.
"He? Why, he married his stenographer!" said Mabel.
"I know it," replied Gerlie. "I applied for the same job just ten minutes after she was hired."—Detroit Free Press.

Prices of Long Ago.

The Magazine Almanac for 1817 contains the following market prices of the Pittsburgh market: Bacon, 15c. per pound; beef, 8c. to 10c. per pound; butter, firm, 18c. to 50c. per pound; geese, 75c. to $1 each; turkeys, 75c. to $2 each; flour, $4 per hundredweight; $7 to $8 per barrel; Indian meal, $1 to $1.50 per bushel; corn, 75c. per bushel; oats, 50c. to $1; whisky, 75c. to $1.75 per gallon; cider, $4 per barrel. The prices for vegetables and fruit are higher than in Philadelphia or New York.

"The number of wagons employed in hauling goods from the eastward to this place, besides many that discharge their loads at Brownsville and other places, is greater than will be believed by many, though it is a fact nevertheless. Mr. Alexander Thompson, within a few miles of this place, living on the turnpike, has politely favored us with the number of wagons which have passed and repassed his house in the year of 1815. They amounted to 11,800, all subject to pay toll."

Listen to Your Conscience.

Almost daily in every breast there is some tragedy enacted. A plot and a counterplot, a hero and a victim, a climax and a catastrophe, remorse and restitution—all these confusedly intermingle with scenes of our inner consciousness. And he who selects out of it all as the type of his dominating thought the morbid and the hateful thus starves and shrivels up his own highest nature and poisons the lives of others. But he who in the midst of these chaotic scenes can listen attentively to the whisperings of the still, small voice thereby nourishes his soul to a degree of bigness and strength that make him a power for righteousness in any community. But the real secret of materializing our highest thoughts in the form of deeds is to act readily and willingly upon the promptings of the inner spirit. To procrastinate, however, is in time to render this inner voice forever silent.—From "The Symphony Calendar," by William A. McKeever.

Sir Arthur Sullivan's Ordeal.

There was a dramatic episode associated with the production of "Iolanthe" in London in 1882. That opera was the first of the Gilbert and Sullivan series produced at the Savoy, and Sir Arthur Sullivan had arranged with Francis Cellier personally to conduct the first program. On the morning of the day fixed for the production Sir Arthur was a comparatively rich man, so successful had been the four operas which had preceded "Iolanthe," but just as he was about to leave home for the Savoy news reached him of the bankruptcy of the firm intrusted with his investments, and with that bankruptcy the whole of his savings disappeared. But in spite of this heavy blow he went to the theater and conducted "Iolanthe" before a crowded audience, which little knew that the famous composer was then as poor as the lowliest scene shifter behind the scenes.

How He Worked It.

It takes a genius to get the better of a gas company, but one man has managed it. He had a penny in the slot meter; but, though the company was aware that he used a great quantity of gas, the machine was always empty when the collector called. When the company for its own protection offered to pay the rogue for his secret he produced an ice disk of the requisite size, inserted it in the slot and let the company imagine the rest. The staggered institution decided to open a branch in Greenland, where ice doesn't melt quite so fast.—London Globe.

The Retort Courteous.

"It was mighty nice of you to give up your seat to that stout old lady, Mr. Blinks. It is pleasant to see that there are still some polite men left in the world."

"Sorry, Mrs. Jabbers, but it wasn't politeness at all. The man who sat next to me was quarrelsome because he said I crowded him too much, and all I did was to use that stout old lady as a sort of retort courteous."—Exchange.

Lost Opportunities.

"You should think of our illustrious ancestors, who steered this ship of the republic through the troubled waters."

"I'm kind of losing respect for my illustrious ancestors," interrupted Senator Borgum. "Too many of them were inclined to boast that they left politics poorer than they were when they accepted office."—Washington Star.

At a Standstill.

"Did you send Helen Plain a birthday present?"

"Yes, I always do."

"Which birthday is it?"

"I don't know. I'm inclined to think, however, that I've sent her three presents for the twenty-second."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Suitable Tablet.

"What sort of tablet shall we erect over your grave when you are gone?" they asked of the dying man.

"Well," said the cheerful victim of stomach trouble, "I think a dyspepsia tablet would be the most appropriate."—Harper's Bazar.

Happy Ending.

"Did the play have a happy ending?"

"You bet it did. Some one in the gallery hit the villain square in the face with a tomato."—Houston Post.

Good Proof.

Daddy—No, yer mother never dressed the way you girls do today to catch a husband. Daughter—Yes, but look at what she got!—Boston Record.

If thou art terrible to many, then beware of many.—Ausonius.

Meditation.
In meditation we are free. We can consider our side and then the other without embarrassment. If we change our opinion because the weight of evidence has shifted there is no one to exult over us and make us ashamed. If we recognize that we have been mistaken in our assumptions there is no one to say, "I told you so." We quietly make the necessary adjustments to ever changing reality and go on with our business of thinking. We are not required to reach any predetermined conclusions. We have no nervous anxiety to catch any particular train of thought, as we are traveling on our own feet and are willing to put up wherever the night finds us; hence it is that, while discussions go on with great vigor and few are convinced except of the righteousness of their own cause, meditation often brings unexpected results. When we meditate we sometimes change our minds. This is a beneficial achievement, for it renders it unnecessary for us to spend all our strength in attempting to change the order of the universe and the whole direction of human progress in order to get a sense of the fitness of things.—S. M. Crothers in Atlantic Monthly.

Tobacco For Hiccups.

In a Russian medical journal Dr. G. Tatevossif draws attention to the excellent service which may be obtained from the ordinary snuff tobacco as a means for cutting short hiccups. He relates an instructive case of a patient with some chronic chest disease, accompanied by violent cough attacks, in whom the latter used to be followed by extremely obstinate hiccups. The common remedies, including cocaine, failing to exercise any controlling influence on the most distressing symptom, Dr. Tatevossif at last decided to give a trial to the said old fashioned popular means, making the patient on each occasion thoroughly snuff into his nose a pinch of the powder until the appearance of lively sneezing. From the first treatment the effect was truly brilliant, the hiccup subsiding as if by magic.

Sunday Games in Old England.

Queen Elizabeth issued a license for the playing of games on the Sabbath. For thus runs her order of 1569 permitting "the shooting with the standard, the shooting with the broad arrow, the shooting at the Turk, the leaping for men, the running for men, the wrestling, the throwing of the sledge and the pitching of the bar, with all such other games as have at any time heretofore or now be licensed, used or played." Sixty years later, however, all was changed. In 1625 a law made Sunday pastimes illegal. No meetings or assemblies of people were allowed "oute of their owne parishes on the Lord's day within this realme of England for any sports or pastimes whatsoever."—London Express.

Coming Back.

"Repatee," said Colonel J. W. Zevily of Muskogee, "is useful in its proper place, but should not be indulged in in a courtroom. Down in our country a judge sentenced a malefactor to a year in prison."

"Hub!" said the prisoner flippantly. "I can do that standing on my head."

"Is it possible?" inquired the judge. "I am astonished. But, in order that you may not be compelled to maintain that undignified attitude all the time you are in prison, I hereby sentence you to an additional year, which you may do standing on your feet."—Exchange.

One Would Do It.

"You know what I'm going to do?" whispered the girl as she looked around at the crowd that was beginning to be so sleepy and that still stayed on. "I'm going to give a party and start the Chinese fashion of telling them when to go. I'm going to get up as they do and say: 'I'm sorry, but it's time for you to go home. Here's your hat.' I think it will be a mighty fine thing. So few people know when to go home. Don't you think so?"

"Mighty fine," he answered, "but you don't intend ever to give but one party then, I see."—Exchange.

The Whip in the Boot.

In some parts of Siberia a bridegroom on arriving home commands his wife to take off his boots. In one is a whip and in the other a purse. The contents of the boot she first selects for removal presage whether he is to be generous or the reverse to her. A very kind husband will put a purse in each boot and omit the whip to make her believe that her choice is auspicious.

Tribulation.

Tribulation is no respecter of people. When he sees a man tryin' ter climb high he says ter him: "De higher you goes, ole boy, de fuder you'll have ter fall. I'm right behind you fer ter keep you gwine w'en yo' time comes ter roll down!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Protective.

"It's no use insisting, gentlemen. I will not sing. The doctor has forbid den it."

"Why? He lives in this house, then?"—Paris Rire.

Disappointing.

How disappointing it is when you try to take time by the forelock to discover that another fellow got there first and pulled all the hair out.—New Orleans States.

The Social Scale.

"I thought you liked your new friends so much?"

"So I do, but I just had to give them up—they own such a cheap car!"—Luck.

Andacity, more audacity, always audacity.—Danton.

French Lick, Ind., Dec. 18.—Chas. A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago American League club, who became ill while attending a baseball conference here yesterday, was reported much improved this morning. Comiskey said he hoped to be able to attend a meeting of the schedule committee later in the day.

Ban B. Johnson, president of the American League, said nothing would be done toward completing the sale of the New York American League club to Colonel Jacob Ruppert and Captain T. L. Huston until late today.

WOMEN'S COLLEGE TO GIVE CREDITS FOR BIBLE STUDY

Oxford, Dec. 18.—Dr. W. W. Boyd, president of the Western College for Women in this city, is the first college executive in the state to announce his endorsement of the proposed plan to give credit for Bible study done in Sunday schools, as an entrance requirement for college. This is a matter which has been agitated in many states and successfully carried out in several. The Ohio State Sunday School Association is behind the movement in Ohio.

Dr. Boyd says "I am heartily in favor of the idea. It only remains to draw up a plan which can be successfully carried out and which will be uniform in operation. Preliminary to the general work, I should like to see a conference of all the Bible department heads in colleges of Ohio at some central point, say Columbus, and to have meet with them a number of Christian high school teachers, so that a course of study might be framed, which would be worth one unit of credit.

PROLONGING LIFE BRIGHTS DISEASE

It is hard for physicians who have had nothing but failure in chronic he is philanthropic, and now in Bright's Disease to believe that there is such a thing as recovery and many honestly feel that patients reporting recoveries under Fulton's Renal Compound are but temporarily benefited. Let us refer to the case of the daughter of the late N. W. Spaulding, former U. S. Sub-Treasurer of San Francisco.

After her father "had spent ten thousand dollars" in efforts to cure her and the dropsy came and the end looked near she was put on Fulton's Renal Compound. To use the words of the physician, let us say that she was temporarily benefited. We must now stretch "temporary" to twenty years, for it was twenty years ago, and she was living and attending to her household duties at last advice, in January, 1914.

The ability of Fulton's Renal Compound to oppose Renal Degeneration and reduce albumen in many cases of Bright's Disease is not a matter of opinion but a FACT IN PHYSICS, and we will mail formula for albumen test that will show the percentage from week to week. As the albumen declines improvement commonly follows, recoveries having been reported in thousands of cases. Send for formula and literature mailed on request. John J. Fulton Co. P. O. Box 100, New York City.

ORATORIO

OF "THE MESSIAH," HANDEL'S IMMORTAL WORK, GIVEN A SPLENDID REPRODUCTION.

By Engewerson Choral Society at Granville Baptist Church, With 200 Voices.

(Special to The Advocate) Granville, Dec. 18.—The Engewerson Choral Society gave its annual rendition of "The Messiah" last night, before an audience that overflowed the auditorium of the Baptist church. Granville prides itself on this free presentation each year at the Christmas season, of this noble composition which tells the "Old, Old Story" which is ever new to people who grow to love it more with each repetition. The performance of the chorus last night, under Prof. Eschman's direction, exceeded any previous effort, in the spirit, the volume, the precision of attack, and the responsiveness to the leader. Two hundred amateur singers are not easily controlled, but Prof. Eschman by his magnetic power over them, made them a musical unit in the inspired choruses. The solo work was done by local talent, which after all in interesting when a society is so fortunate as to possess artists of undoubted ability. Miss Almeret Chrysler, who has often before charmed audiences in Granville, is new to Oratorio work, and deserves the greatest credit for the musically quality of her work. Her voice is a lyric soprano, of great purity, sweetness and flexibility, which were greatly in evidence in the "Come Unto Me" and "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth." Miss Grace Jeanette Brooks, head of the voice department in Denison Conservatory, sang the contralto solos with exquisite feeling in a rich, colorful voice of great range. Miss Brooks is already firmly established in the affections of Granville music lovers and her appearance last evening, but added fresh laurels. Mr. Russell Williams sustained the work of the tenor, with admirable spirit. His voice is rich, mellow and flexible and his singing gave pleasure to the audience. Mr. Paul Curtiss, with only three days' preparation, gave a notable rendering of the bass solo, "The People That Sit in Darkness." His voice is smooth and resonant and was under perfect control in the difficult passages of that great solo.

In the organ accompaniment to the choruses and solos, honors were evenly divided between Miss Fannie J. Ferrar, head of the piano department, and Miss Leila C. Brown, the new head of the organ department of the conservatory. The work is exacting, but was brilliantly performed by both talented artists.

Prof. M. E. Stickney, president of the society, announced to the waiting audience that the cause of the delay in beginning was due to the lateness of the Newark car which brought several of the singers. He bespoke the material interest of the public in helping to maintain this organization, as money is needed for carrying on the work. It costs something even to erect the big stage and prepare it for two hundred singers, not to mention the importation of soloists.

The Kappa Phi sorority opened the chapters house to its alumnae as well as to the active members of the chapter house, yesterday afternoon. The affair was in the nature of a reunion, each guest responding to the invitation with a substantial donation to the house. The Dayton alumnae sent a set of sterling teaspoons, other absentees sending their gifts in the form of money with which to buy something useful. The presents were taken from a beautifully decorated Christmas tree, and were unwrapped by the president of the sorority. An appetizing hot repast was served, and the customary Kappa Phi songs were sung.

The Sigma Delta Phi sorority observed Founders' Day yesterday afternoon, December 17. The chapter house was the scene of a beautiful and impressive service honoring its charter members, at which the active, chapter and resident alumni were present.

Miss Dora O. Lisle left today for Rockford, Ill., where she expects to remain for two months as the guest of Mrs. George Safford of that city. Mrs. Charles Deeds is in Dayton for a few days' visit at the home of her son, Mr. Edward A. Deeds, assistant manager of the National Cash Register company.

Miss Howland's china department of Shepardson college gave an exhibit of decorated china in Stone Hall yesterday afternoon, December 17, which was largely attended and greatly admired.

ENTERTAINMENT BY BROTHERHOOD OF 5th STREET BAPTIST

The Men's Brotherhood of the Fifth Street Baptist church met in the church last night. The room was beautifully decorated with the Brotherhood colors, white and gold, and a very interesting program was rendered. President Frame called the meeting to order, and Secretary Glengier called the roll of members. The new members last night introduced, numbered 11, and there were several guests. Some ninety members are now on the active list. The Brotherhood Octette, composed of Messrs. Dodd, Crider, Hendricks, Stull, Lampton, Armentrout, and Keller was heartily received.

Three special features marked this gathering, the two speakers from out of town, Dr. G. H. Dye of Mt. Vernon, and Dr. C. W. Chamberlain, president of Denison University, and then the open or general discussion among the brothers themselves. The addresses were of a high rank, that of Dr. Dye on "The Glory of the King's Subjects," and the other by Dr. Chamberlain on "The Educational Situation in Our Country." At the close of the program the first division of the Aid Society served a fine lunch, on the "Service" plan and everybody went home feeling that this was probably the most successful Brotherhood meeting the Fifth Street Church has held.

DEATH COMES SUDDENLY ON HIS BIRTHDAY

(Special to The Advocate) Utica, Dec. 18.—While sitting before his fire reading a newspaper Thursday evening Clifford Selby, 53, a farmer residing two miles west of Utica on the Utica-Homer road, passed from sleep into death, almost before members of his family realized that his sleep was not natural. His death occurred on the evening of his 53rd birthday anniversary and was due to heart trouble, according to Dr. Eley of Utica, who reached the man's side sometime after death.

Mr. Selby had been in his usual good health Thursday as far as is known. He had completed his day's work, and ate a hearty supper. Arising from the supper table, he seated himself before the fire in the living room. He was reading a magazine when members of his family noticed that he had apparently gone to sleep.

They called to him but received no response and then found that they could not arouse him. Dr. Eley was hastily summoned but found that life was extinct when he reached the home. Death occurred about 7 o'clock.

Mr. Selby was survived by his wife and four children. No funeral arrangements have been made.

Value of Foods.
A well meaning meal containing the proper combination of foods is not difficult to prepare. The essential ingredient, a repairing material, is protein, found abundantly in meat, eggs, cheese and nuts. The starches and sugars, technically known as carbohydrates, are required also, together with fats for fuel for effort. These two fuel furnishing foods can be used alternately, thus securing a variation. Scientists who have given the question of food values special attention report that a diet of protein, fat and carbohydrates alone would cause starvation more quickly than if all food were withheld. There is the necessity of introducing some mineral salts that yield iron, calcium, magnesium, phosphorus and potassium.

A supply of iron is obtained from raisins, whole wheat, dried beans, prunes and meats or the yolks of eggs. Calcium is contributed by milk, dried peas and beans, celery and citrus fruits in meat, peas, beans, milk and prunes there is magnesium. Phosphorus forms a quality in meat, milk, egg yolks whole wheat, dried peas and beans. Potassium is furnished in potatoes, parsnips, cabbage, turnips and apples.—Leslie's.

Self Belief the Key to Success.
Do you still believe in yourself? If so, you cannot become a failure. You can at worst only have failed to learn as yet the science of success, of which self respect is the key. In the great gamble of life we can afford to lose everything but our self respect. Money lost is little lost; friends lost, much lost, but self respect lost, and all is lost. Self belief is the husband of self respect, just as self respect is the mother of self reliance. Believe in yourself and you will win through, for self belief is the mainspring of human activity and the principal source of human improvement. It inspires you to do things. It teaches you to try again. The man who retains his belief in himself will never give up trying, and success is the reward of persistent effort. Self reliance will pull us through many a struggle from which the coward flees in vain and in which the weak succumb. The ability to "get up again" is the reward of the self reliant.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Tactful Toast.
At the close of the wedding breakfast a gentleman noted for his lack of tact arose, causing keen anxiety to the bridegroom, who knew his falling "Ladies and Gentlemen," he cried genially, "I propose the health of the bridegroom. May he see many daylike this."—Ladies' Home Journal.

The Dorcas society of the North Newark Christian Union met at the parsonage in regular monthly business meeting Thursday. There were fifteen of the twenty-four members present. These are a hustling, self-sacrificing band of Christian women, fully determined that the church's expenses shall be met and the church built up and sustained. A dainty lunch was served and all expressed perfect satisfaction in every way and a fuller determination to do greater things for the upbuilding of the church and the uplift of humanity. BRITISH LOSS IN NAVAL BATTLE OF DEC. 8, WAS SIXTY (ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Buenos Aires, Argentine, Dec. 18.—The commandant of the Argentine cruiser San Martin, which has just come into port, relates that in the Golfo Nuevo he met the British cruiser Carnarvon and exchanged visits with her commanding officer. The engagement December 8, which resulted disastrously to the German squadron, was discussed. The commandant of the San Martin was informed that the English squadron had four men killed and fifty-six wounded. None of the wounded has been landed; they are all being taken care of on board. The German cruisers opened fire at a distance of 13,000 yards. The British vessels held their fire until they were within 800 yards of the enemy.

Mr. McGuire, who lives at the corner of Maple avenue and Leroy street, went to work Friday morning, and while engaged in his duties at the plant was overcome by the gas. He was taken home and Dr. H. P. Martin was called to attend him.

In spite of the "panicky times" the wedding bells are ringing everywhere.

PROGRAM FOR DEDICATION OF MUNICIPAL TREE

As time for the community Christmas celebration draws near plans to make the event successful seem to be progressing. A meeting of the general committee held Thursday night brought reports of progress from all sub-committees. Prof. C. W. Kloppe reported success so far in his efforts to get together a big chorus, which it is hoped will number several hundred voices. Two hymns will be used to open the services and the Buckeye band will participate in the musical program. Several hundred lights will be used on the tree, including the big illuminated star which was part of the setting last year.

Mayor Bigbee will press the electric button which will illuminate the tree at 7:30 Christmas eve, and in course of the program the mayor will deliver a short address. Rev. Lewis P. Franklin, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, also will speak.

According to the report, the soldiers who captured the chauffeurs asserted that the men had a dynamo and machine gun in their cars for Carranza troops.

PARENT

MUST SEND HIS CHILDREN TO SCHOOL IN ADDITION TO HOME INSTRUCTION

But Probate Judge Gives Him Direction as to What Township He Patronizes.—Court News.

Home education, to the exclusion of schooling under professional instructors, is not always advisable, according to the decision of Probate Judge Hunter, Friday, in a juvenile case.

The court decided that Katherine and Ruth Long, daughters of Herbert Long, living near the Burlington-Bennington township line, must attend one of the township schools. The case was brought into juvenile court by the school board of Burlington township. Mr. Long, father of the girls, is himself a college man, a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan, and he told the court that he regarded the Burlington township schools inferior to home instruction that he was able to give his children. He expressed willingness, however, to send the children to the Homer schools, in Bennington township. They had been attending school in Homer, it is said, until the Burlington board of education protested and brought action. Then Mr. Long taught his children at home. Judge Hunter ordered the children sent to school, but gave the parent privilege of sending them to Homer if he wished to do so.

Word from Bond Firm.

A communication to the board of county commissioners from Otis & Company, Toledo securities dealers, who partly arranged for the purchase of $96,500 of county pike bonds recently issued, was received Friday in which it was stated that the matter of legality of the issue had been referred to the company's legal advisors. This may indicate action on the disposal of the bond sale, which has been in the balance for some time.

7th Regiment O.N.G. Ordered Mustered Out

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Dec. 18.—Because the seventh regiment, Ohio National Guard, located in the southern part of the state does not have a complement of twelve companies required by the war department regulations, the regiment was ordered mustered out as a national guard organization today by Adjutant General George H. Wood, with approval of Governor Cox.

The disbandment order discharged Col. Harry D. Knox, of Marietta, his staff and field officers, immediately. The various companies and the band are retained merely as unattached organizations. Battalion commanders and staffs also are retained. The mustering out of Company K, at Portsmouth nearly a year ago, left only 11 companies in the regiment.

If another company can be organized and sufficient interest developed, General Wood declared the regiment would be reorganized. Colonel Carmi A. Thompson of Ironton, commanded the regiment for several years and resigned after being elected secretary of state. He was succeeded by Col. E. C. Corn, of Ironton, who gave up the office after being elected common pleas judge.

Justice Jones' Court. The case of Dick Fernow, charged by state's attorneys with having in his possession a hunting license transferred from the original licensee, contrary to law, was dismissed by Magistrate D. M. Jones, Friday, at request of the prosecution. It is said reasons of a technical nature were responsible for the request for dismissal.

He is only a clerk, not a very well paid clerk at that, but he knows more about the problem of living than most men we know. His chief duty is to find out and arrange and look up things for other men. When you mention your need he smiles and goes about it—not an humble smile, because he reads somewhere that smiling helps, but a pleasant smile that means he understands what you want and it won't be for lack of trying if he doesn't do it. And generally he does it. He is the same kind of person at home too. He doesn't know a whole lot of people. He's too busy, and we doubt if many of the persons who know him realize what a vacancy there would be if he should drop out of their lives. But we owe a great debt to him. He proves to us always that life may be lived without a grouch or a frown of discontent. He stimulates our faith in the worthwhileness of living. He holds up a candle by which to see the road. He is one of those who prove that the world need not be dark.—Milwaukee Journal.

Hare Hunting.

Hare hunting is undoubtedly a more antique sport than the chase of the fox. Xenophon pursued it with delight in ancient Greece, and in Britain the hare was for centuries looked upon as a far more worthy quarry than the fox, which, until the time of Queen Elizabeth and even later, was regarded as mere vermin. Nicholas Cox, author of "The Gentleman's Recreation," a work on sport, published in 1677, writes thus enthusiastically: "As of all chases the hare makes the greatest pastime, so it is a great delight and satisfaction to see the craft of this little poor beast in her own self preservation." And it is to be admitted that in those shifts and expedients which afford to lovers of hounds the true delights of hunting the timid hare is at least fertile as any known beast of chase in any part of the world.—London Saturday Review.

An Army's Eyes.

When people read that armies are engaging each other at 2,000 yards' distance they are apt to imagine that the combatants can see each other, but as a matter of fact they cannot. At that distance it is impossible to distinguish between a man and a horse, and even at 1,200 yards, especially where there is any dust, it requires the best kind of eyes to tell infantry from cavalry.

At 900 yards the movements become clearer, although it is not until they get within 750 yards of each other that the heads of the columns can be made out with anything like certainty.

Infantry can be seen in the sunlight much more easily than cavalry or artillery, because less dust is raised. Besides, infantry is distinguished by the glitter of the muskets. At 2,000 yards, however, everything is unsatisfactory.—London Standard.

A "Practical" Ghost.

One of the London magazines relates "one of the few instances in which a ghost is recorded to have played a really practical part. It happened in Sicily some years ago, when an Englishman who was taking a solitary walking tour in the interior of the island suddenly became aware that a friend of his who had died some time before was walking by his side. A little farther on he came across some brigands who were evidently lying in wait to attack him. They looked at him and then remarked, with evident surprise, 'Why, there are two of them!' and immediately hurried away, thinking it was not safe to attack them." The writer does not tell what happened then, but leaves one to draw his own conclusions.

Somewhat Changed.

A colored man called at Mrs. Baley's, looking for work.

"What is your name?" she asked after hiring him.

"Mah name is Poe, ma'am," was the answer.

"Poe?" she exclaimed. "Perhaps some of your family worked for Edgar Allan Poe. Did they?"

The colored man opened his eyes wide with amazement.

"Why—why, ma'am," he said as he pointed a dusky finger at himself—"why, Ah am Edgah Allan Poe!"—Lippincott's.

Moral Courage.

A schoolteacher once told her class that the courage which makes us do what we think right, regardless of the sneers of others, was moral courage, the best kind.

"Then if a boy has a box of candy, like me yesterday," said a lad, "and if he eats it all himself, without giving any to people that have no right to it, no matter how much they call him mean and stingy, that there's moral courage, ain't it, teacher?"

Sadder Still.

"It is a sad moment in life," said Cynic, "when you find that love, glory, happiness, are not worth a cigar."

"It is a decidedly sadder moment still," said his friend, "when you find that the cigar itself is bad."—Kansas City Times.

A Better Term.

"Not much of a town."

"One horse, eh?"

"Well, a trifle faster than that. Suppose we say one cylinder."—Puck.

Definite Saving Plan

4% OLD HOME

The remarkable and uniform success of the 1100 people who joined our Christmas Money Club last year—the ease with which they have accumulated the sums they started out to save, shows how easy it is to accomplish saving if a definite plan is followed.

If YOU have never been able to save, may we suggest that you try the Christmas Money Club, and join not only the class which accumulates the amount you wish for Christmas, but also some one of the other classes and keep this last amount as a permanent saving fund.

Many did this last year and now have a fair start toward a good sized account and also have proven their ability to save and make it a fixed habit.

New York, Dec. 18.—Many more new records for the current movement were made by leading stocks in the early part of today's session. The opening

Steel was almost the sole issue of the active group to display comparative steadiness. Offerings were light with a suggestion of short selling.

Export demand lifted corn as well as wheat. Rural sales were a little larger than hitherto, but not enough so to have any material effect. After opening a shade off to 1-4 higher the market scored a moderate general upturn.

Oats responded to the firmness in other cereals. Trade however, was light.

Big receipts of hogs weakened the provision market. It was noticeable though that the pressure to sell was of a scattering character.

A Legend of the Forgetmenot.
The blue bloom of the forgetmenot was christened on the banks of the beautiful Danube. There is a legend that two lovers once walked there. The girl admired some flowers, blue as her eyes, that grew upon an islet in the stream. The boy promised that she should have them, sprang into the river and swam to the island. Returning with the blooms, he had nearly reached the shore when the chill of the water and the strength of the current overcame him. With eyes fixed on the white face of his beloved, he flung the blooms at her feet, cried "Forget me not!" and was swept away beneath the icy waters to his doom. The legend says the girl, in memory of him, wore forgetmenots in her hair until she, too, died of a broken heart. Henry IV. of England in his exile translated the forgetmenot to his friends to mean "Remember me."—Boston Post.

No Soft Bed For Him.
There is an immensely rich man in New York who never slept on a bed of elderdown, goose feathers, felt, hair or excelsior. When a boy he slept on a pallet of straw. When a young man his bed was an old fashioned shuck mattress. In the making of which he assisted to the extent of sorting the shucks. In the army (1861-5) he was glad to sleep on the ground. Later, as a civil engineer, he reposed on a punchon, and now, rolling in wealth, goes to bed every night on a trundle bed which he bought from his aged "nigger mammy." This affair is not over fourteen inches high and is corded up with half inch hemp. There is no mattress, and of course there are no springs. A rag quilt covers the ropes, another covers his body as he sleeps. His health is superb.—New York Press.

Details.
Details are something beneath the notice of the majority. It requires a rare sort of mind to accord to them the proper importance.

It is necessary for every great artist to understand details in order that he may know when they should be ignored. Gulliver discovered this interesting fact when he woke up one morning. The perfection of any masterpiece depends upon the strategic elimination of its details.

Those who see only those things which lie between the little and the great see neither of these. It requires the same capacity of imagination to master details that it does to master immensities. To see big one must also be able to see little.

Controlling events means controlling details. Nothing succeeds like details.—Life.

Split Infinitives.
During an examination in grammar and composition an inspector was questioning the highest class of the school, and he presently said:

"What is meant by the saying, 'You should not split the infinitive?'"

One determined looking boy, rather than give no answer at all, hazarded the reply:

"It means that you should not try to divide space."—Exchange.

A Jocular Convict.
"We're starting a circulating library for the use of the inmates," said the prison missionary. "Is there any particular book you'd like to make use of?"

"Why, yes," replied the convict. "If I could only use it right I'd like to have a railway guide."—London Tit-Bits.

Peerless Geneva.
The most glowing tribute to Geneva is Frederic Harrison's. "I hold Zurich, Basel and Geneva to be the model cities of our age—the fine type of what cities will one day be in a regenerated age—the true type of civic organization, having sites of rare beauty and convenience, spacious streets and avenues, noble public walks and gardens, perhaps everything short of grand antique buildings." Geneva in particular is "the finest type of a national city that Europe possesses—a true city where, as in Athens, Florence, Venice, Antwerp or Ghent, of old, men can live a wholesome civic life, not in huge, amorphous caravanseries, such as London, Paris or Berlin—not in suffumigated barracks, such as Manchester or Lyons or Glasgow—but in a beautiful, well ordered, free, organic city."

A Common Curiosity.
"Willie, why weren't you in school yesterday afternoon?"
"Do you want to know too?"
"Of course."
"Oh, gee, teacher! Pa and ma kept me busy all evening explaining that."—Detroit Free Press.

Inverse Eugenics.
"They say that action and reaction are always equal."
"Yes; one of my ancestors worked himself to death, and I'm the reaction."—Pittsburgh Courier.

The Courts

Wife Wants Divorce.

That he proclaimed his infidelity to her, is one of the charges made by Margaret Wolfe, of Newark, against her husband, Harry Wolfe, in her petition for divorce, on file in Probate court. The parties were married in Newark, Nov. 28, 1905. The defendant is also accused of gross neglect, refusing to provide for his wife, extreme cruelty and habitual intoxication. Attorney L. C. Russell represents the plaintiff.

New Attorney Begins.

Attorney John J. Martin, admitted to the practice of law last week and sworn in on Dec. 16, filed his first petition in Common Pleas court Friday. It was the suit of Carl Norpell, administrator of the B. Frank Barnes estate vs. John Stevens, for an alleged account of $100.50 with interest from Aug. 8, 1909.

Attorney Martin's first official appointment was as receiver of the Dahne estate, in Newark.

Answer In Damage Suit.

In an answer filed Friday to the damage suit of Henry C. Miller vs. H. J. Kaufman, the defendant avers a compromise settlement was agreed upon by the parties Thursday; Kaufman denies his negligence in driving his automobile near Millersport was responsible for the frightening of Miller's horse, with resultant damage, on June 27, as alleged by Miller. Attorneys Webber, McCoy and Jones represent the defendant.

In Juvenile Court.

A trio of youngsters were "carpeted" in Juvenile court Thursday afternoon by Officer John Dwyer as a means of fixing responsibility for pigeon thefts which have been annoying young fowl raisers in East Newark. The lads were given a warning lecture and released on their promise.
